U.S., Russian Leaders May Meet June 2

Kennedy Discusses Conference Plans
With Diefenbaker

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Preparations were well under way Wednesday night for an informal summit meeting early next month—possibly June 2—between U.S. President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna.

Preparatory work began after the Austrian Chancellor announced it gave a "positive reply" to an American inquiry whether Vienna could play host to the meeting.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said in Ottawa the President discussed with Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker of Canada the possibility of a meeting.

Sure Thing, West Diplomats Say

MOSCOW (AP)—Western diplomats insisted Wednesday night a conference between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev is a sure thing and that the only unknown is the hour of convening.

Informants said the conference will be held in Vienna, probably June 3 or 4.

There was no official confirmation from the U.S. Embassy or Soviet sources. Soviet newsmen professed surprise at the news.

Khrushchev returned to Moscow Wednesday from a two-week tour in Armenia and Georgia where he spoke at party meetings.

Salinger declined to comment on reports the meeting was being arranged for this Austrian capital, but U.S. officials here said Salinger is expected to arrive in Vienna with an advance party, probably next week, to select a conference site.

Embassy Leaves Canceled

Though there is no official confirmation from Washington or Moscow, everyone in Vienna, including U.S. Embassy officials, is convinced the meeting will come about. All leaves for U.S. Embassy personnel have been canceled until further notice.

It was reported that the President is expected in Vienna on June 2, the same day he is due to conclude a three-day state visit to France.

Plans for the summit conference are believed to call for a general discussion of world affairs touching especially on major East-West problems. The meeting is not expected to last more than two or three days.

Possible Meeting Places

There is speculation the conference will be held in the local U.S. and Soviet embassies, alternating; or in one of two or three spacious former imperial palaces conveniently located in Vienna.

Vienna can offer a historic conference site, the so-called Hofburg, the former imperial city residence of the Hapsburgs.

The huge main hall of the Hofburg would be ideally suited for the mass press conferences usual during such meetings. Khrushchev held his press conference there last summer at the conclusion of an eight-day official visit to Austria.

Talks Weighed, Bowles Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Acting Secretary of State Chester A. Bowles said Wednesday that President Kennedy definitely is considering a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. He said a final decision would be made later.

Bowles' statement was made at a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and relayed to reporters by chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

Senate Defeats JFK School Bill Revision Moves

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of federal aid to education quashed two attempts in the Senate Wednesday to revise President Kennedy's $2.55 billion school bill.

By lopsided votes, the Senate defeated a Southern amendment to protect segregated school districts and a substitute bill to revamp the administration program.

Observers looked on the test votes as signs that the bill has a smooth road ahead. The bill would provide federal grants to states for public school construction, teacher salaries or both.

In the first test, the Senate defeated 70-25 an amendment by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., which would have prohibited the federal government from withholding grants to racially segregated schools.

Then, on a 64-30 vote, the Senate defeated a substitute bill of Sen. William A. Blakley, D-Tex. Under his bill, each state would have kept 2 per cent of the federal income tax paid by its residents and would have spent the money on schools. Blakley's bill would have cost $812 million a year.

While the Senate beat down proposed changes, the House Education and Labor Committee approved a $2.5 billion federal aid-to-education bill. Its approval, however, was tentative. A later vote could change the situation.

But as tentatively approved, the House committee bill, like the Senate bill, would provide funds for teacher salaries as well as classroom construction.

The provision for salaries may have difficulty in the House because Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., in the past has opposed using federal funds for that purpose.

U.S. Troops Steer Clear Of Involvement In Korea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said Wednesday American troops will not become involved in South Korea where a military junta seized power over the government.

The statement was made after Acting Secretary of State Chester A. Bowles took a hopeful view of the Korean coup during closed-door testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Bowles was quoted after the session as saying that the junta apparently was interested mainly in cleaning up corruption and not in maintaining a permanent military dictatorship.

The U.S. attitude on intervention was spelled out by State Department spokesman Joseph Reap in response to questions.

"American troops are not in-

Setback For U.S.; Leader Of Coup Names Cabinet

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's military junta declared Thursday the chiefs of all branches of the military forces have decided to back the ruling Revolutionary Committee.

In an announcement over Seoul radio—which the revolutionaries have controlled since Tuesday—the junta said the heads of the army, navy, air force and the commandant of the marine corps decided to support the coup at an emergency meeting this morning.

The announcement added that the military chiefs congratulated each other on the success of the near bloodless coup.

Earlier, the revolt leaders reported that the commander of the powerful 1st Field Army had thrown his support to the junta which overthrew Premier John M. Chang and his government.

The gathering military support was a decided setback for U.S. authorities in Korea who have frowned on the insurrection and urged the armed forces to restore civil government.

Rebels Defy U. N. Command

The 1st Field Army is a war-torn element in the United Nations Command of U. S. Gen. Carter B. Magruder. The junta rejected Magruder's demand Tuesday that the rebellious armed forces chiefs restore control immediately "to the lawful government authorities and that order is restored in the armed forces."

Lt. Gen. Lee Han-lim, commander of the 1st Field Army, was quoted by the junta-controlled Radio Seoul Wednesday night as pledging his full support personally and the cooperation of his officers and men in achieving the junta's objectives.

Those objectives were outlined by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, leader of the military revolutionary committee, as eliminating political corruption and incompetence and rebuilding the poverty-stricken nation of 23 million. The junta proposed no shift in South Korea's pro-American, anti-Communist stance.

Gen. Chang Names Cabinet

Gen. Chang, 38, the army chief of staff, named 24 officers to a temporary Cabinet. He was reported by a close source to be optimistic over the prospects of getting on with the job without further bloodshed.

Five or six persons were reported killed in the Seoul coup, staged before dawn Tuesday. No violence has been reported since.

The whereabouts of Premier Chang still was undetermined. It was learned that he was spirited out of his suite in a downtown hotel Tuesday just 10 minutes before coup forces moved to arrest him.

Under U. S. pressure to adhere to constitutional processes, the military junta Wednesday abandoned earlier threats to arrest the premier and other missing members of his Cabinet.

Instead it called for them to attend a meeting in the state council room, their usual meeting place, and said their safety would be guaranteed.

They have not and will not be," Reap told a news conference. He said the U.S. embassy at Seoul is in contact with both sides in Korea—the military junta and representatives of the overthrown government of Premier John M. Chang.

Reap said the American Embassy was not attempting to act as a negotiator but that both sides "are consulting us." He said no orders have gone out to cancel U.S. aid to Korea.

Reap declined to estimate how firmly the military junta controlled the country. He said the situation was very fluid, although the military appeared to control the capital city area. Information from other areas was too scanty to make a judgement, he said.

Soviet Veto Trap Spotted In Laos Plan

Both Russia, U. S.
Proposals Provide
Troop Withdrawal

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union proposed Wednesday an independent and neutral Laos free of all foreign troops. The Western powers quickly spotted a Communist veto as a potential trap in the Soviet plan.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko submitted his proposal to the international conference on Laos shortly after Secretary of State Dean Rusk introduced an American plan.

Both plans envisioned a neutral policy for Laos and evacuation of all foreign troops to end the isolated nation's role as a pawn in the East-West cold war. But Abram Chayes, U.S. State Department legal adviser, said Gromyko had introduced "a double-barreled type of veto."

Rusk promised that all American troops would pull out of Laos if foreign Communist forces advising the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels also would leave.

U.S. troops now consist of a small training mission of about 300 men.

Soviet Airlift Confirmed

The size of foreign Communist forces is not known but may be several thousand men.

Meanwhile, a dispatch in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper in Moscow, for the first time admitted Soviet planes were airlifting supplies to pro-Communist forces in Laos.

Secretary of State Rusk also told the conference here that the Pathet Lao rebels were violating the cease-fire in Laos repeatedly. A report from the International Control Commission in Laos also distributed a report to the delegates saying some sporadic fighting continued.

The American secretary emphasized that peace could only be guaranteed if the Canadian-Indian-Polish control commission for Laos is empowered to investigate true violations without hindrance.

Truce investigations, he said, should be undertaken by the control commission on the complaints of various countries, including the governmental agencies of Laos.

Reds Veto Plan

The way U.S. advisor Chayes saw it, this would be the first barrel in the Communist veto plan.

The International Control Commission could investigate charges that the cease-fire had been violated—or perhaps that the Communists were still pouring in military aid to Laos—only if instructed to do so by the co-chairmen of the conference, Britain and the Soviet Union. Thus if the Soviet Union said it did not believe there had been a violation, no probe could be made.

The second barrel was Gromyko's proposal that the control commission make its decisions by unanimous vote. That meant that the Soviet Union, acting through Communist Poland, could prevent the commission from functioning.

Damaging Wind Rakes Kansas

By The Associated Press
Roof-ripping winds and rain struck Kansas Wednesday and tornado warnings were posted for four south central states.

High winds, causing thousands of dollars in damage, tore into the Beloit, Kan., area. Some 700 square feet of roofing was blown off a school building and scores of windows were broken.

A warehouse roof was lifted and several sections torn off. Utility lines were snapped and telephone service in the Beloit area was interrupted temporarily.

No injuries were reported. The storm brought .74 inches of rain. Rain or showers fell from Kansas into the Dakotas and eastward into the Middle and Upper Mississippi Valley.

The Weather Bureau warned of possible tornadoes in portions of Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Occasional rain or showers occurred from the northern Rockies into eastern Oregon.

Dog Used To Disperse Crowds

Integrationists Stranded, Jailed In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A group of racially mixed college students from Tennessee, attempting to crack bus station segregation, were jailed Wednesday after bus drivers refused to take them out of town.

Police Chief Jamie Moore said the eight students — seven Negroes and a white girl — were taken into protective custody without charges.

"It is dangerous for you and for others for you to stay here," Moore told the students.

Several other Negroes were taken into custody at the station. One was the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Birmingham Negro minister who heads the pro-integration Alabama Christian Council on Human Rights.

All told, 14 persons—ten Negro men, three Negro women and one white girl—were held in protective custody.

The small number of white persons allowed on the loading docks by police sent up a cheer and a round of hand-clapping as officers loaded them into patrol wagons. The students sang as the wagons pulled away.

Two other members of the student group—a white man and a Negro—were arrested on their incoming bus four hours earlier on charges of failing to obey an officer's order.

The later arrests came slightly more than an hour after the group found itself stymied in efforts to ride a bus out of town.

They went out onto the loading platform for their bus, due to leave for Montgomery at 3 p.m. But their driver told them:

"If you get on I will not drive the bus."

He picked up his bag and walked away from the bus. The scheduled bus run was canceled.

The group remained on the loading platform, planning to try again on the next scheduled bus to Montgomery. But their arrest interrupted the plan.

A few moments before the students made their attempt to board the bus, police said they had received a bomb threat, but the danger period given in the warning expired without incident.

Johnson Confers With Thai Premier

BANGKOK Thailand (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson conferred Tuesday Wednesday with Thai Premier Sarit Thanarat on means of bolstering Southeast Asia's defenses against Communist military attack.

After the first talk with Sarit, which was attended by the premier's top military advisers, Johnson told newsmen that "we made a particularly good start." However, he added that no definite decision was reached.

Moderator Elected

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Paul D. McKelvey, a layman from the presbytery of Los Angeles, Calif., was elected moderator Wednesday of the 173rd General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church.

Dick Clark, Wife To End Marriage

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dick Clark, the TV idol of teenagers, and his wife, whom he began courting in high school 14 years ago, are going to end their marriage.

A terse, joint announcement Wednesday that gave no more than a shadowy clue to the reason, came a year after Clark, 31, faced congressional investigations of payola. On the eve of that appearance there were rumors all was not well in the Clark house.

Castro Offers Prisoner Swap For Bulldozers

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Wednesday he would exchange his prisoners of the April 17 invasion of Cuba for 500 bulldozers from the United States — or else the prisoners will be put to hard work.

The bearded prime minister made the statement in a speech to a huge rally of peasants in Havana on a telecast monitored in Key West.

"Of course," Castro told the cheering crowd, "those among them who have committed murders cannot be exchanged for anything. Those who have murdered are not subject to any treaty. All the others we will exchange for 500 bulldozers."

"The Fascist priests we will send for free."

"If Kennedy says they are his friends and he loves them so much, let him send 500 bulldozers and we will send them back," he said referring to the invaders.

Castro added, "The invaders have to pay for the damage they have done."

If they are not traded, Castro said, "they will work hard building trenches and fortifications."

House Urges Action By OAS Against Castro

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House, branding Cuba a "clear and present danger" to this hemisphere, Wednesday urged the Organization of American States (OAS) to take collective action against Fidel Castro.

The action coincided with a State Department announcement that the Castro government has agreed to let about 92 of an estimated 1,200 U.S. citizens in Cuba leave the island Friday.

The House expressed its views on Cuba in a strongly-worded resolution, passed on a 401-2 roll call vote. It said the island has become a base and staging area for Communist activity, and a threat to peace in the Americas.

If passed by the Senate, the resolution merely would express the sense of Congress on the subject. It would not be binding on the President.

But Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla., said the measure would strengthen President Kennedy's hand in dealing with the Communist threat at this country's doorstep.

The two "no" votes were cast by Reps. Clare Hoffman, R-Mich., and Frank Kowalski, D-Conn.

Hoffman explained: "I think it is kind of absurd to ask 20 nations, most of them small, to assist in determining what we should do. I think this nation is big enough and strong enough and (President) Kennedy has judgment enough, to decide what has to be done."

Kowalski expressed fear that collective action might cause a split among the Latin American nations. "And even if we succeeded in getting sanctions imposed," he added, "I don't believe it would be in our best interests."

The legislation asks the OAS to impose sanctions offered by Rep. Armistead Selden, D-Ala., against the Castro regime, and to exclude Cuban representatives from meetings of the Inter-American Defense Board.

Senate Unit Votes Billion Hike In FHA Loan Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a hurry-up move to keep the Federal Housing Administration from running out of home loan insurance authority, the Senate Banking Committee Wednesday voted unanimously for a $1 billion increase in the agency's $37.5-billion ceiling.

Meanwhile, the committee-worked on President Kennedy's $4.79-billion general housing bill — approved two key provisions he recommended.

1. New government-insured, 40-year, no-down-payment mortgages designed to help moderate income families buy homes by cutting the monthly payment. This also provides more liberal terms to build apartments for such families.

2. Home improvement loans to run as high as $10,000 with a 25-year maximum repayment period. At present these are limited to $3,500 and five years.

The committee did make some changes in Kennedy's recommendations, but their actions indicated the senators would go along with Kennedy in most of his housing proposals.

The group interrupted its work on the omnibus housing bill to speed through the emergency resolution to boost the FHA's home loan insurance ceiling.

Canada Told It's Time She Joined OAS

President's Speech
To Parliament High
Point Of State Visit

OTTAWA (AP) — President Kennedy said Wednesday the United States is ready to establish an internationally controlled sea-borne nuclear missile force and to beef up allied nuclear and conventional forces to convince world communism its "grand designs" will be resisted.

The President, in a major address to the Canadian Parliament, also bluntly told Canada it is time she joined the Organization of American States in an all-out effort to secure the whole Western Hemisphere against "the encroachment of international communism."

The speech to the two houses of Parliament in the House of Commons was the high point of a state visit, in which one of Kennedy's main purposes was to persuade Canada to contribute more to Latin-American defense and development.

Kennedy reminded Parliament the United States plans to commit five — and subsequently more — Polaris atomic-missile submarines to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization command area, subject to allied agreement.

"Multilateral" Missile Force

"Beyond this," Kennedy said, "we look to the possibility of eventually establishing a NATO sea-borne missile force which would be truly multilateral in ownership and control, if this should be desired and found feasible by our allies, once NATO's non-nuclear goals have been achieved."

The United States, he said, intends to strengthen the conventional capability of the alliance as a "matter of highest priority," and is taking steps "to increase the strength and mobility of our forces and modernize their equipment."

"To the same end, we will maintain our forces now on the European Continent and will increase their conventional capabilities," he said. "We look to our NATO allies to assign an equally high priority to this same essential task."

Kennedy said both the improvement of conventional forces and the increase of nuclear forces are aimed at guaranteeing that "no aggressor will mistake our determination to respond instantly with whatever force is appropriate."

The time has come, he said, for members of the Atlantic community to further increase and integrate their forces, research development, production, storage defense, command and training at all levels of armaments.

Kennedy, Diefenbaker Confer

The President's address followed a meeting of two hours and 35 minutes with Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker. The two already had discussed Tuesday night the possibility of a Kennedy meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Disclosing this, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger declined to go into details. The disclosure was, however, recognition that the United States has been discussing with allies the value of a summit meeting with Khrushchev.

The subject apparently was not renewed at the formal conference of Diefenbaker and the President.

Kennedy is reported to have laid much stress on his hope that Canada, along with all North Atlantic nations, would be able to increase economic aid to all underdeveloped countries, and he mentioned Latin America in particular.

The Canadian leader, however, was said to have declined any promise to boost Canada's contributions in sectors outside South east Asia and the British Commonwealth. On the matter of joining the Organization of American States, the Canadian's opposition was reported one of considering this but of making no commitment now.

X15 Test Pilot Sets Speed Record Try

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) Test pilot Joe Walker will make an assault of the world's speed record Thursday when he takes the rocket plane X15 up for a planned 3,400 miles an hour flight.

The plane is being tested by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to obtain data on aerodynamic heating, performance, stability and control.

Air Force Maj. Robert White flew the X15 at a speed of 3,073 m.p.h. on April 21. Walker holds an altitude record of 169,600 feet, set in the X15.

Eichmann Made Jews Pay Death Camp Fares

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Adolf Eichmann, where tens of thousands of Jews perished.

—Eichmann was the driving force behind the Nazi program under which the Jews of Europe were driven remorselessly to the extermination camps as part of Hitler's "final solution" of the Jewish "problem."

—Eichmann set up and acted as watchdog over the regulations under which German Jews systematically were stripped of all property, even their wedding rings, before being sent to the death camps and then were charged for their own fares and kept until they reached the gas chambers. One-fourth of the cash received went into an account kept by Eichmann for travel and other expenses.

After a four-hour morning session devoted entirely to documentary testimony, the court recessed until Thursday to enable Judge Benjamin Halevy to attend the funeral of a relative, a Jerusalem city official.

Wednesday's documentary evidence revealed, according to assistant prosecutor Yaakov Baror, that:

—Eichmann largely was responsible for setting up the horror camp at Bergen-Belsen in North

Amish Horses' Seizure By IRS Brings Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Indiana congressman Wednesday protested against seizure of three horses belonging to an Amish farmer in Pennsylvania by the Internal Revenue Service to satisfy delinquent social security taxes.

"It is particularly difficult to stomach when you realize this man's annual income is only $1,864 from which he supports his wife, four children and an 83-year-old mother," said Rep. Richard L. Roudenbush, R-Ind.

The reference was to Valentine T. Byler, New Wilmington, Pa. Three of his horses were sold at public auction by the Internal Revenue Service to make up for $247.78 owed in social security taxes.

The IRS says the horses brought $460 and that after costs were deducted a surplus of $37.89 was turned over to Byler.

Roudenbush said in a statement the IRS action shocked him because of its "arbitrary and confiscatory nature."

Members of the Amish sect, he said, do not believe in insurance and social security.

"Americans still have the right of religious freedom," said Roudenbush, "and farmer Byler in following his religious beliefs has been deprived of his means of livelihood."

Westinghouse Head Defends Identical Bids

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of Westinghouse Electric Corp. pledged a campaign against price fixing Wednesday but told senators he saw nothing wrong with competitors offering the same prices.

"Identical prices are not evidence of collusion or conspiracy in any way," the executive, Mark W. Cresap Jr., told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee.

He defended seven sealed bids by Westinghouse and its chief competitor, the General Electric Co., to the Tennessee Valley Authority this year. In each case the bids were identical.

"This would be very natural," Cresap said, because the bids likely were on standard products in the catalogues of the two companies. On such items, Cresap said, "we meet the lowest price of the competition."

But Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., the subcommittee chairman, said that while identical prices may not be unlawful, they are evidence of a lack of competition.

Kefauver brought up the TVA bids because they came after the recent federal price-fixing case.

In that case, a U. S. district judge fined 29 electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 company officials nearly $2 million after they pleaded guilty or no contest to federal charges of meeting illegally to fix prices. Seven officials also were sentenced to 30-day jail terms.

After the price-fixing case early this year, Cresap testified, Westinghouse instituted a program aimed at preventing further price fixing by its employees.

Simpson Elected B&O Board Chairman

BALTIMORE (AP)—Howard E. Simpson, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad since 1953, Wednesday was elected chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

B & O directors at their monthly meeting named Simpson to succeed Col. Roy B. White, chairman of the board since 1953. Col. White, who had been expected to step down for some time, was named honorary chairman.

Simpson, in his new capacity, will have general supervision and direction of the overall management of B & O affairs. He also was elected a director.

Simpson's new status is effective immediately. Jervis Langdon Jr., vice president and general counsel, was elected president, effective June 1.

Decker In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The U. S. Army chief of staff, Gen. George H. Decker, arrived Wednesday to confer with U.S. Ambassador Walter Dowling and inspect American troops in Germany and France.

Cassini Denies First Lady Still Buys Paris Fashions

NEW YORK (AP)—Reports and denials flew on whether Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of the President, is still buying Paris fashions.

The controversy got started in a Paris dispatch to Women's Wear Daily, New York retailers' paper, which said she definitely is.

The paper said a Paris fashion house "has the First Lady's measurements and the clothes are sent without any fittings."

This promptly infuriated Oleg Cassini, who serves as Mrs. Kennedy's personal designer.

Bob Kennedy Endorses Bills To Curb Crime

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy asked Congress Wednesday to help the Justice Department go after hoodlums and racketeers who "have become so rich and so powerful that they have outgrown local authorities."

Urging passage of a series of bills aimed at breaking up "vicious and dangerous criminal combinations," Kennedy said "only the federal government can curtail the flow of funds which permit the kingpins to live far from the scene" beyond the reach of local officials.

He estimated organized gambling does a gross volume of $7 billion a year, and helps support numerous other criminal activities, "including the bribery of local officials."

Kennedy testified before a House Judiciary subcommittee at a hearing on legislation dealing generally with organized crime.

He submitted a statement by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, seconding his proposals, but Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said he would like to hear from Hoover personally.

Celler said Hoover had declined an invitation to testify and asked Kennedy to try to change Hoover's attitude so the committee can question him.

Judge Rules Low Bid Gets Paving Contract

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Anne Arundel Circuit Judge O. Bowie Duckett said Wednesday he will order that a $750,000 paving contract in the county's Third District be awarded to the firm submitting the low bid.

Judge Duckett's ruling ended a two-day citizen's suit brought by Julian Bacot of Severna Park against the county commissioners.

Hyman A. Pressman, Bacot's attorney, contended the award of a contract for work in three districts of the county was illegal because A. H. Smith, the firm awarded the road work, was not the low bidder in two of the districts.

Roads Oppose NYC Petition

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The Norfolk and Western and the Nickel Plate Railways Wednesday asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to deny a petition by the New York Central Railroad for inclusion in their proposed merged system.

They also asked denial of the Central's petition for consolidation of the N & W-Nickel Plate proceedings with docket covering the Central's fight with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway over control of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

In a formal joint reply filed with the ICC, the N & W and Nickel Plate said the request for consolidated dockets was "another step in the Central's efforts to de-pauper added, the sister, Princess Lee Radzwill, is her same size East which do not embrace that and thus the clothes can be purchased without a fitting for Mrs. Kennedy."

The only White House comment came from Pamela Turnure, the First Lady's press secretary. Several days ago she said Cassini had designed the Mrs. Kennedy's wardrobe for both her trip to Canada and Paris.

"It will be supplemented," she added, "by one French dress and perhaps a few other things from a New York dress firm."

The N & W and Nickel Plate denied there are common issues which would warrant consolidation of their proceedings with the "unrelated" B & O proceedings.

Maryland's Tax Revenue Shows $10 Million Hike

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein Wednesday reported the state has collected $266.6 million from its major tax sources during the first ten months of the current fiscal year — an increase of $10.1 million over this time a year ago.

Goldstein said collections through April totaled $266,585,233 or 3.96 per cent above the $256,427,230 figure of April last fiscal year.

The comptroller said collections to date amount to 80.54 per cent of the state's official revenue estimate of $331 million for this fiscal year.

He said the current trends indicate all the estimated amounts will be collected with two exceptions. The retail sales and use taxes are expected to fall about $1 million short of the estimate and the motor vehicle revenues also are expected to be a million short.

The individual income tax has produced the largest revenue amount to date — $71,311,453 — followed by the retail sales and use tax at $63,941,900 and the motor vehicle fuel tax with $45,383,923.

The income tax has shown the greatest dollar jump over totals for April a year ago with an increase of $2.8 million. The retail sales and use taxes are up $2.6 million and the motor vehicle fuel tax returns have increased $1.5 million.

A $1 million jump in receipts from the horse racing tax represents the largest percentage increase — 18.77 per cent. At this time last year only two race meetings had been held. Three have been run to date this year.

Women Voters Hear Leader

BALTIMORE (AP) — The national president of the League of Women Voters said Wednesday "the mood of this country is one of awareness of government."

Mrs. Robert J. Phillips, in an address at the 35th convention of the League of Women Voters of Maryland, urged the state members to take advantage of that mood.

"The increasing complexity of society and therefore government bears down on each of us with sometimes unendurable pressure," she said, and added:

"What we need to do from time to time is to re-awaken the feeling that work of the league is important."

More than 100 delegates are attending the two-day convention to map plans for league action for the coming year.

The state organization's newest member group, representing Frederick County, was welcomed in opening ceremonies. Mrs. Edward J. Satterthwaite, president of the Maryland League, read the formal report officially recognizing the Frederick league.

Peace Walkers Leave Baltimore For N. York

BALTIMORE (AP) — A group of peace walkers set out from Baltimore Wednesday for New York, nearing the end of the first leg of a San Francisco-to-Moscow march.

Nineteen members of the group, sponsored by the Committee for Non-Violent Action, a pacifist organization, carried signs around Baltimore's George Washington Monument in a brief demonstration before heading north.

The group had arrived here Tuesday from Washington. A small segment detoured to Annapolis, Maryland's capital and site of the U.S. Naval Academy, before heading north.

Stripper Fined $250 For 'Show'

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP) — A dancer from Baltimore was fined $250 Tuesday for a performance in a Rhode Island Avenue tavern in Mt. Rainier.

Police raided the tavern Feb. 28. They said 52 men were watching a striptease.

A Prince Georges County detective, Jack Hamilton, testified in Hyattsville Police Court Debbie Mason, 27, was lying on the floor with nothing on except the scantiest of brassieres — known in the trade as "pasties."

"Ridiculous," said Miss Mason. "Why should I do that — lie on the floor and get my clothes all dirty?"

Miss Mason said she had on a pair of red beaded panties and a full-length negligee, open at the front. Furthermore, she said, there was no place on the stage to hang them.

"And I wouldn't lay them down because someone might walk off with them," she explained.

Judge George O'Hare imposed the fine. He dismissed disorderly charges against three other women police said they found in a dressing room when they made the raid.

He also dismissed a charge of maintaining a disorderly house against Sol Bass, 56, operator of the tavern.

LaVale PTA Meets Today

LaVale School Parent-Teacher Association will install newly elected officers at its last meeting of the school year today at 8 p. m. Room visitation will precede the meeting at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Helen Walburn, membership chairman of the Allegany County PTA, will install Billy C. Manges, president; Kenneth A. Wolf, first vice president; Mrs. Glen Kauffman, second vice president; Mrs. Robert E. Zimmerman, secretary, and Mrs. Russell H. Bucy, Jr., treasurer.

A report on the results of last week's fun festival will be given.

Train's Speed Caused Wreck

WASHINGTON (AP) — Excessive speed was the cause of a Pennsylvania Railroad train wreck near the Bowie Race Course in Maryland last Feb. 2, the Interstate Commerce Commission ruled Wednesday.

The commission, in a report on the accident which killed six persons and injured 243 others, said a tape recorder on the locomotive indicated the 11-car train was traveling about 55 miles an hour when it reached a turn-off into the track siding.

The maximum authorized speed at the junction is 15 miles an hour, the ICC report said.

The train, a race special, was bound for Bowie from Philadelphia, with a stop at Baltimore. The accident happened about 1 p. m. in sub-freezing temperatures. The engineer and fireman said it appeared the brake system was partially frozen and the train's speed could not be fully controlled.

The commission said, however, its investigation showed the brakes were functioning properly.

Martin Plan Would Speed Up Manned Moon Probe

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Evening Sun said Wednesday the Martin Co. is about to propose a plan by which a manned rocket could be put into a moon orbit two years ahead of the present National Aeronautics and Space Administration timetable. The Martin plan reportedly would involve immediate authorization of Project Apollo, the manned moon probe. The company also reportedly would recommend use of the Titan II booster for preliminary tests of the three-man Apollo capsule, rather than waiting for completion of Saturn, the vehicle to be used ultimately. The Titan is manufactured by Martin. Current NASA plans call for awarding of contracts some time in 1962 for development and manufacture of Apollo equipment. The flight to the moon itself is proposed for some time between 1965 and 1970. Martin feels at least six months could be saved by substituting the Titan for the Saturn in preliminary tests. The Titan has a thrust of about 500,000 pounds. The Saturn's thrust is expected to be about 1.5 million pounds. Completion of the Saturn is expected in 1965.

A Martin spokesman confirmed

Shipping Laid Up

LONDON (UPI)—Total tonnage of world shipping laid up through lack of employment edged higher last month caused by increased tanker lay-ups, figures from the chamber of shipping showed Wednesday.

World merchant fleet vessels at moorings numbered 377 of 2,805,023 tons at the beginning of May, against 386 ships of 2,801,900 tons at the start of April.

Idle dry-cargo ships showed a decrease in both number and tonnage. At the start of May they numbered 181 ships of 941,420 tons or 1 per cent of the world freighter fleet, compared with 200 of 1,067,842 tons in early April.

"Piggy" Simms Dies

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A man who has not missed a session of the Maryland General Assembly since 1892 died Wednesday at the age of 94.

The familiar fixture at the law-making sessions was John (Piggy) Simms, a Negro described by one state officer as the "official bootblack" of the Maryland legislature.

Simms was employed by Dr. Carl P. Russell, a dentist and member of the Anne Arundel County Commissioners. He had worked for Gov. Taves when the governor was state bank commissioner and later comptroller.

Wall Street Views

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market averages are painting one picture and individual stocks another, a Wall Street investment analyst pointed out Tuesday.

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. noted that the Dow Jones industrial average appears to be running into some difficulty in overcoming the strong psychological resistance barrier existing at the 685-700 level.

But, he said, as far as individual stocks are concerned there seems to be just as many ready to break out and score advances that could be almost as great as those made by the recent market leaders.

"The present action might be described as a spring housecleaning period where switching is actively taking place from some stocks that seem over-priced or have unattractive prospects into others that appear under-priced by all the known yardsticks of market measurement.

"It seems likely that the bullish trend will remain intact until, or unless, the Dow Jones industrial for best results is underscored."

and rail averages fail to carry into a new high ground and drop back to a new low on heavier volume.

"This bull trend would be most unusual if it ended without a still greater participation and greater interest being shown toward the lower priced stocks. Before the advance ends it is expected that the lower-priced issues will register still sharper gains."

A. M. Kidder & Co. comments that the market has met a test in good style and seems about ready to make another attempt to penetrate the 700 level on the Dow Jones industrial average. It adds that it looks for success.

Calling attention to the New York Stock Exchange's recent warnings against uninformed buying of stocks, Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says the "know-your-stock" rule is more applicable than ever.

"At various stages of the market it is easy to lose perspective," he cautions, "the market could be on the verge of an extensive upswing and the selective approach unless, the Dow Jones industrial for best results is underscored."

Business Tabs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's 13,126 insured commercial banks made record profits during 1960 despite the recession, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation reported Tuesday. Net profits after taxes totaled $2,003,000,000, 35 per cent above 1959.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Business failures across the nation fell to 368 in the week ended May 11 from 399 a week earlier but rose above the 304 in the same week last year, according to Dun & Bradstreet Inc.

NEW YORK (UPI)—G.O. Marjono has been named executive vice president of the Heast Corporation, it was announced Tuesday by Richard E. Berlin, president of the corporation.

Soviet Spends Billions On Raid Shelters

By FRANK ELEAZER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's civil defenses chief said Tuesday a secret study indicates Russia is building enough air raid shelters to protect the great majority of its people from fallout in any nuclear war.

Frank B. Ellis, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony published Tuesday the study showed Russia was spending from $500 million to $1.5 billion a year on shelters.

Ellis asked for $2 million to provide shelters in 29 present U.S. government buildings and $6.2 million to include shelters in planned new buildings. He said he hoped the pilot project would encourage Americans to build their own.

Congress rejected a similar request last year and Ellis ran into hostile questioning in renewing the appeal. Subcommittee members indicated doubts that Ellis had any new information to back up the appeal.

At this point, he mentioned the secret report on Russian shelters. He said it was made by a man who speaks Russian fluently and who spent six months in the Soviet Union. He did not name the man but offered to present the study to the subcommittee in secret session.

Ellis said the report "specifically indicated that the great majority of the Soviet population would be protected from fallout." Urging approval of a pilot program in this country, he said: "I believe, gentlemen, that we are dealing with human survival."

Most deaths in a nuclear attack would result from fallout rather than the blast and heat of an explosion, he said. He added that most people would have time to take shelter if there were any available.

Shelters to be provided in federal buildings would be planned for two-week occupancy, with independent water, sewage, and electrical systems.

Federal buildings in which it is proposed to install shelters are in Birmingham, Ala.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Fresno, Calif.; New Haven, Conn.; Wilmington, Del.; Savannah, Ga.; Springfield, Ill.; Dubuque, Iowa; Portland, Maine; Baltimore, Md.; Jackson, Miss.; Kansas City, Mo.; Missoula, Mont.; Omaha, Neb.; Carson City, Nev.; Littleton, N.H.; Trenton, N.J.; Santa Fe, N.M.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Charlotte, N.C.; Portland, Ore.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Columbia, S.C.; Aberdeen, S.D.; Columbia, Tenn.; Waco, Tex.; St. Albans, Vt.; Roanoke, Va.; Parkersburg, W. Va.

Most tornadoes occur in spring and early summer when masses of warm, moist air drift northward from the Gulf of Mexico and collide with cold, dry fronts from the Pacific.

Two Britons Fired For Red Raffle Game

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UPI)—Two men have been fired from their jobs at a top-secret nuclear factory for selling raffle tickets to aid the Communist Party, it was disclosed Tuesday.

First prize was a trip to Moscow.

A spokesman for the union at the factory, which manufacturers secret equipment for Britain's nuclear weapons research establishment at Aldermaston, said the men were fired because there is a company law against buying or selling anything on the premises.

The so-called "rare earths" are not particularly rare. Most of these chemical elements are more common than gold or silver. Some, like lanthanum, cerium and neodymium, are more abundant than lead.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Memo to girl graduates — college and high school — who want to get ahead in the money world:

—Run down to the local bank and apply for a job. Your banker is looking for the likes of you.

One reason: Females and money have a natural affinity. We women, for example, pay the bills in 80 per cent of the families. We control 70 per cent of the nation's wealth.

But the new thing about females and money is that more and more of us are cashing in on the career opportunities on the banker's side of the vault. The bankers are happy about it.

Now the female who says so is Dr. V. Ernestine Moore, chairman of education and training for the National Association of Bank Women.

She's an officer as well as personnel director of the Wilmington Trust Co. in Delaware.

Dr. Moore said there are almost 100,000 more women than men working in banks across the nation today.

Twenty years ago, men outnumbered the females behind the bank's cage by nearly 175,000.

The advance of females in banking takes on importance when you consider that almost 10 per cent of all bank officers are the skirted kind. Included in the elite class are 164 female bank presidents and 688 vice presidents.

"Girls graduating from high school and college next month will find there's room at the top for the ambitious," Dr. Moore said.

"There's also room for the miss' with marriage on her mind."

Besides holding down jobs as secretaries and tellers, the women have been found to excel in public relations, personnel, trust work, research and new business development in banking.

Now what's in it for you? Dr. Moore said starting salaries compare favorably with those in other professions and industries for similar work.

Once a girl achieves officer status, she can earn between $7,000 and $15,000 in banks in the larger cities.

"Banking also offers women the highest fringe benefits of any field," Dr. Moore said.

She cited figures from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce showing that banks pay an average of $31.70 in non-wage payments for each $100 in salary. That's $8.90 higher than the average for all other businesses.

Moonwatch Team Sets Spotting Record

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—A Cincinnati moonwatch team has reported making 41 separate observations of 40 passes of 22 satellites, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory announced Tuesday.

"As far as we know this is a record," said Dr. John White of Smithsonian. He said the satellites included rocket bodies, satellites proper and other man-made objects in orbit.

The observations, under direction of team captain Thomas Van Flandern, were made on the night of May 11, Smithsonian said. The laboratory here is world headquarters for moonwatch, the visual spotting of satellites.

Physician Shortage

CHICAGO (UPI)—The International College of Surgeons said Tuesday the shortage of physicians had reached the proportions of a national emergency.

Ways of meeting the shortage were discussed at a symposium highlighting the third session of the College's 26th Annual Congress of the North American Federation.

More than 3,000 surgeons from the United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama were expected at the five-day meeting, which runs through Thursday.

Almost the world's entire crop of jumping beans comes from the town of Alamos in the Mexican state of Sonora.

No Taxi Service; Cabbie's In Jail

HARTFORD CITY, Ind. (UPI)

Residents of Montpelier, Ind., could not hail a cab Tuesday.

Montpelier's only cabbie, Chester Brenner, 76, was in jail here on a plea of guilty to a charge of disregarding a traffic signal.

Brenner chose to serve four days in jail instead of paying an $18.75

Man Making Progress In His Long And Costly Battle To Beat Heat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Man their homes with water and let the desert winds evaporate the moisture cooling the houses with the same principle as modern air conditioning.

The National Geographic Society this week reviewed some of the methods man has devised to keep cool under the summer sun. The ancient Egyptians soaked Davy once tried to air condition the House of Lords by boring holes in the floor to let cool air see, in. The plan failed and the chamber refused to pay Davy for his efforts.

Modern air conditioning dates back to 1902. Working in a Brooklyn printing plant, Dr. Willis Carrier perfected a device that controlled temperature, humidity, cir-ulation and cleanliness of air. A million central cooling units and about eight million room-size air conditioners are in use in the United States.

Air conditioning has been used for some unusual purposes, too. When a Texas chicken farmer wanted to increase production, he air-conditioned his hen house. The chickens responded with a 60 per cent increase in egg production. An Illinois watch company has installed an elaborate cooling system to prevent rust and dust from damaging delicate works used in its time pieces.

Air conditioning helps electronic brains keep a cool head. Chilled air is used to cool tubes in the computers that malfunction when they become overheated.

Phi Rho Chapter, BSP, To Meet During Summer

Installation of two new members was discussed at the first meeting of Phi Rho Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, conducted by Miss Judith Hoenicka Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, advisor, Elmwood Lane. They are Miss Sandra Topper and Miss Judith Stottlemeyer. They will be installed at the meeting June 6, which will be at the home of Miss Eileen Mitchell, 551 B Street, LaVale.

A telephone committee was selected to remind members of meeting dates. It consists of Miss Carol Sanders, Miss Dorothy O'Baker, Miss Margaret Mullen and Miss Janet Nelson.

Since it is a new sorority, it was decided to hold one meeting a month during the summer. In October it will have a Ritual of Jewels ceremony. Plans also were discussed for a fund raising project, the duties of each officer, and a meeting place, instead of in the various homes.

Workshop Today

The Mapleside Homemakers Club will meet today at First Brethren Church. A workshop will be held at 10 and the business session at 1. A flower exchange will follow the meeting.

RECEIVES GAVEL—Mrs. Arthur A. Verner, retiring president of the Women's Republican Club of Cumberland, is shown turning the gavel over to Mrs. Holmes Cessna as Mrs. William A. Hepburn, state president, and installing officer, watches. Others are Mrs. George H. Barnard, and Mrs. John E. Lancaster, first and second vice presidents.

Mrs. Holmes Cessna Is Installed By GOP Women

Officers of the Women's Republican Club of Cumberland were installed by Mrs. William Hepburn, Rockville, state president, at the final meeting before the summer at the Woman's Civic Club house. Mrs. Arthur Verner presided and thanked the committee chairmen and members for the work done "in assisting in making the Sixth district the only Republican district in Maryland" and asked they give the same assistance to the new officers in their work.

Mrs. Holmes Cessna was installed as president; Mrs. George Barnard, vice president and Mrs. John Lancaster, second vice president.

The Lord's Prayer was sung by Mrs. John Zorning, as well as two Venetian songs by Stoltz. She was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Clark at the piano. A Mexican cloth covered the tea table, with silver tea and coffee service by Mrs. Verner. Candelabra and flowers were by Mrs. Miles Thompson, Sr. Mrs. Robert Wilkins was in charge of the tea, assisted by Mrs. William Macy.

Girls' Auxiliary Rally Tomorrow

Concluding Girls Auxiliary Focus Week, the Western Association will hold a rally tomorrow at 7:30 in Grace Baptist Church. Each auxiliary from Allegany and Garrett counties will participate. Miss Laura Bachetti, former summer student missionary to western states, presently attending FSTC, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Clyde J. Runion is director.

During the observance, special recognition was given girls 9 through 15, culminating in a coronation service marking the individual girl's progress in the past year.

A rummage sale, by the sophomores of Girls Central High School, will be held today at 174 North Centre Street, instead of 7 North Liberty Street. It will open at noon.

Mt. District Luther League To Hold Rally

An evangelistic rally will be held by the Mountain District Luther League Saturday and Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church. The four churches will be participating. It will begin at 1:30 with a training session in "Member Visitation," conducted by Rev. Robert Fink, assisted by Rev. Logan, of St. John's.

Following visitation of inactive members, leaguers will return to St. John's for discussion on the visits.

A recess will be held Sunday at 2, when the same schedule of training, visits and discussion will be followed. Supper will be held at 6:30.

Concluding the rally a large meeting will be held in the evening, where all participating and members visited are invited. Rev. Vernon Naugle of St. Luke's church will conduct the meeting. Patrick Shannon, district president, is in charge of the rally.

RWSC Tea To Be June 1

The annual spring tea of the Rural Women's Short Course Club will be held June 1. It will be at the Woman's Civic Club house from 1:30 until 3:30.

Mrs. C. R. Burkey will be general chairman, assisted by members of North Cumberland Club. East Side Club will have charge of the candy sale, which is to raise funds to send a freshman to College Week for Women, and a 4-H girl to State 4-H Club Week.

Frostburg Club was named to send the freshman.

Dinner Event Set By Baptist Brotherhood

The Men's Brotherhood of Second Baptist Church will hold a dinner Friday at 6:30 p.m. in Central YMCA.

Speaker for the dinner will be Dr. R. W. Lowstuter, director of technical personnel at Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory. He will speak on "The Need For A Good Man".

Jean Knippenberg, president of the brotherhood, said Rev. Marvin Simpson will give the devotion.

Jon Hunt is serving as chairman of the Young Men's group which has been invited to attend Friday's dinner.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: That said his son was an incorrigible was a mighty strange answer you until he bought him a set of drums. Others had similar success with accordions.

She wrote that her child was destructive — broke furniture, knocked plaster off the wall and tore up everything he got his hands on. She couldn't take him to the homes of friends or relatives unless she virtually chained him to the porch. You told her the child sounded disturbed and suggested that she take him to a specialist.

In this day and age it seems stylish to treat every personality irregularity as a symptom of emotional illness. It's downright fashionable to be in treatment. Did it ever occur to you that the child might just need something to bang on?

The minister of our church plays the xylophone beautifully. If he hadn't entered the clergy he could make an excellent living as a professional musician. He has often said that his musical training was the result of his destructiveness as a child. He, too, tore up everything in sight. His parents decided he needed something to pound on—so they bought him a xylophone.

The instrument is fairly expensive but it's a lot cheaper than a psychiatrist. Why not recommend it to more "Worn Out Mothers?"—L. A. READER

DEAR READER: Thanks for an interesting letter. Others wrote along the same lines. One father Getting ready for summer? The Power's program of co-ordinated diet is just what you need.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Diet Exercise Streamlined Summer

Diet adjusts weight. Exercise adjusts contours. This, in the simplest terms, is the difference between diet and exercise, and the promise of both. Unless you are physically more active than most women past their teens are, you need both diet and exercise to prepare for the full enjoyment of summer. It's all too probable that you need to lose pounds acquired through the winter, and in the right places to make you a beauty in a bathing suit. That's why we've worked out a Powers' laboratory tested program that combines the two to do the most good at this time of year. We call it "Summerizing Your Beauty," and it's outlined in my booklet by that name.

Eating habits change as the temperature climbs, and they should change to the best habits to maintain a feeling of well-being through the heat. The summerizing program includes specific day-by-day menus to guide you. They are followed every day by exercises. These two together accomplish the slimming and re-

HEW Picks Md. Site For Research Center

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has selected a 1,060-acre site near Rockville, Md., as the location for a multi-million dollar research center, the Evening Star said Wednesday.

The site is at Maryland route 70-S and Shady Grove Road northwest of Rockville. The National Capital Regional Planning Council approved the site at a closed door meeting Monday, The Star said.

The council suggested, however, that three sites in Fairfax County, Va., be studied before Congress is asked for money.

The suggestion that Fairfax County sites be studied is not expected to affect the HEW's selection of the Maryland location.

The new center will engage in research pertaining to environmental health hazards of mass urbanization. Eventually it is to include a staff of some 4,000 doctors, technicians and laboratory workers.

Charles Curtis, one-time vice president of the United States, was a descendant of Indian chiefs in the Osage and Kaw tribes.

Red Activity Film Available Locally

"Operation Abolition," an official document film of the House Un-American Activities Committee on Communist-inspired demonstrations by students, is available for local showing.

The film shows how Communists operate within this nation and can be obtained by clubs and organizations for a slight fee.

Arrangements for showing the film can be made by contacting Rev. Carlton M. Harris, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, at PA 2-2828 or PA 2-3370.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm going with a fellow who loves to dance—but can't. He's always the first one on the dance floor and the last one off. He is totally unaware that he has no sense of rhythm.

I've talked to other girls who have dated him and they agree, so it isn't just me. Would lessons help—if I could get him to go?—NO TOES

DEAR NO: Lessons can't give him a sense of rhythm. They may help him disguise his lack of it, however. Suggest it.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Allegheny Hi-Y Installs Officers

John Balch was installed as president of the Allegheny High School Hi-Y at a recent meeting at Central YMCA.

Other officers are William Toms, vice president; John Eyer, secretary; Donald Beynon, treasurer; Wayne Dehart, chaplain; George Beneman, historian; and Robert Barger, sergeant-at-arms.

Retiring officers are Seldon Harris, president; Wally Hershberger, vice president; William Toms, secretary; Steve Kornblatt, treasurer; Tim Barnes, chaplain; Alan Kaplan, historian; and William Cowherd, sergeant-at-arms.

Police To Study Loading Facilities

The Police Department will study a request by a milling company to use bulk facilities on Henderson Avenue for the unloading of carloads of flour for local bakeries.

The matter was referred to Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming by the Mayor and Council after a letter was received from the Ismert-Hinckle Milling Company of Kansas City, Mo.

The company said it ships bulk carloads of flour and plans such shipment to the B&O siding opposite the Community Baking Company which has facilities for unloading. It was explained that flour is air-blown from the railroad cars into a bulk truck that will occupy part of Henderson Avenue but which will still have two lanes open to traffic.

The matter was referred to Fleming so he could answer the request.

Beth Jacob Women Plan Holiday Auction

Plans are being made for a holiday public auction by the Women's League of the Beth Jacob Synagogue, according to Mrs. Cy Davidson, chairman.

The auction is scheduled for Tuesday, May 30, at 11 a. m. in the old automobile showroom on Frederick Street, next door to police headquarters.

Auctioneer will be Charles C. Ellifritz, of New Creek, W. Va.

Mrs. Davidson said used furniture, electrical appliances, sporting goods, record players and other donated items will be auctioned.

Anyone wishing to donate articles may phone PA 4-7893 for pickup. Mrs. Davidson added.

Parkside PTA To Install Officers

Parkside PTA will meet today at 8 p. m. at the school.

Miss Margaret Doak, supervisor of elementary education for the Allegheny County Board of Education, will install new officers. They are:

John Robb, president; William Cloward, vice president; Cameron Otto, treasurer; Mrs. William Leeson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Jack Murray, recording secretary.

Final plans for the May 25 Fun Festival will be made.

Home room visitation will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Adams Says Eisenhower Once Talked Of New Party

NEW YORK (AP) — President Dwight D. Eisenhower became so discouraged at one time with the ultraconservatism of the Republican leadership, says Sherman Adams, that he discussed the possibility of a new political party.

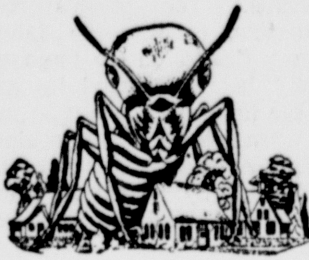

Adams, Eisenhower's former chief aide, tells the story in an excerpt from his memoirs, to be published in the May 19 issue of Life magazine. The memoirs are to be published in book form next month.

"One of Eisenhower's biggest regrets in his public life was the failure of his party's leaders to convert the millions of younger independent voters who supported him so enthusiastically in 1952 and 1956 into a lively and aggressive Republican grass roots organization throughout the country," Adams writes. He had talked about this constantly to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Republican National committee in recent years, Adams said.

"Nor did Eisenhower hesitate to point to what he considered the principal reason. The younger liberals who made up a great part of the uncommitted electorate shied away from party affiliation with the arch conservatives who seemed to continue to exert such influence upon Republican leadership."

Damage Suit Retrial Is Ordered

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals Tuesday ordered a new trial of a damage suit growing out of the death of a Prince Georges County man who was sucked into a sand bin during a loading operation.

The high court said Prince Georges Circuit Court failed to properly instruct the jury on the question of negligence.

The jury had awarded $55,000 damages to the widow and children of Lawrence L. Dearstone, victim of the freak accident Aug. 24, 1957 at the Contee Sand and Gravel Co. near Beltsville.

Dearstone, a repairman, was walking on top of the sand bin when Russell L. Aleshire, operator of a truck which had pulled under the bin, worked a lever which started the sand into the truck and sucked Dearstone into the mouth of the bin. He was dead when finally released.

Aleshire and Floyd W. Tester, owner of the truck, appealed the suit against them and their insurance company. They charged, among other things, that Judge J. Dudley Digges refused to instruct the jury to consider whether they could have reasonably foreseen the accident.

It was on this point that the high court ordered the new trial. "We hold that the language used by the court in defining negligence was couched in such general terms that it failed to cover fairly the matter of reasonable foreseeability," it said.

In remanding the case, the court said it would be unnecessary to retry the question of the amount of damages, "only the single issue of the defendants' negligence."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Club Has Safety Skit

A skit for health and safety highlighted the May meeting of the LaVale Homemakers Club at the fire hall with Mrs. Winona Stimler presiding. The meeting was opened with a tribute to mothers, read by Mrs. Fred Gates Jr. Roll call was answered with "a home accident I have experienced."

After routine reports, Mrs. Douglas Smith gave a review of National Home Demonstration Week, and Mrs. Fred Gates Jr. reminded members of the "College Week for Women," scheduled June 19-24. Mrs. Kenneth Drumm will be delegate for the club.

"The Trial of Hazel Hazard," a skit presented by Mrs. Cromwell Zembower and members of the club, portrayed the carelessness of housewives with their electrical appliances. It then showed how appliances should be used. Swedish weaving was displayed by Mrs. Douglas Ferguson. An article on the state flower and bird of Tennessee was given by Mrs. Drumm. The meeting closed with the singing of the "Tennessee Waltz."

Dudley's Wife Picks Victim From Photo

ONEIDA, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Kenneth E. Dudley has picked from a photograph a Syracuse woman as the person her husband said he strangled 12 years ago. A State Police lieutenant said Wednesday.

The lieutenant, Harry E. Blaisdell, declined to identify the woman, however, until her family was notified.

Dudley, 47, and his wife, Irene, 44, are being held in Hanover, Va., on murder charges placed against them in the starvation death of their daughter, Carol Ann, 8.

Bridge Winners Are Announced

With a score of 132, C. William Dailey and John Moberly topped the field of the Potomac Valley Bridge Club Tuesday evening at the Woman's Civic Club house. The average was 108. Second place North-South were Mrs. Samuel Wood, John Wilkinson, 127; third, Mrs. William Torkington, Lloyd Trimmer, 118; fourth, Mrs. John Laughlin, Edgar J. Dawson, 112½.

East-West winners, where the average was 96, were Mrs. Harvey Aronson, Mrs. Bernard McGreevy, 113; Miss Kathryn Laughlin, Mrs. Madeline Mewshaw, 102; Mrs. Milton Gerson, Theodore Gray, 101½; Mrs. Roy Drumm, Mrs. James Rexroad tied with Miss Alice Stakem, Joseph Schoen, 101.

The Western Maryland Bridge Association game will be tonight at 8 at the Cumberland Country Club.

Even the strictest conventions are subject to considerations of expediency. Where it becomes apparent that the literal interpretation of a rule will get you into hot water, by all means resort to an exception.

A well established and universally accepted convention is the one which concerns itself with the choice of card to lead when returning the suit which partner has led originally. The rule provides specifically that where partner of the opening leader had four or more of the suit he returns that card which was originally his fourth best (not his uninitiated seem to believe) the highest. However, where the return of a low card may produce a block in traffic the player should follow principles of common sense rather than submit slavishly to a mere generality. Blindly following the printed word proved costly to East in today's hand.

There is no fault to be found with the auction, though upon examination of the combined holding in diamonds it is apparent that the risk is not a good one. Declarer's hope rested with the ace of diamonds reposing in the same hand. But there entered a factor which had not previously been taken into account, namely, enemy cooperation.

West led the six of diamonds which East won with the ace. Holding four of his partner's suit he recalled the convention which required him to return the low card, so back came the deuce. South played the eight and West won with the jack. West was able to drop South's queen but East was forced to win the next trick and the fifth diamond could not be cashed.

East's desire to give his partner the exact count of the diamond suit should have been subordinated to the more important business of "getting out of the way." Retaining the ten and nine alone should have occurred to him as a dangerous procedure.

Camping Begins In Garrett Parks

Primitive camping has started at the state parks in Western Maryland, R. Thomas Thayer, district forester, announced.

The facilities at the camping areas at Deep Creek Lake State Park, New Germany and Swallow Falls will not be put in service until Memorial Day. This includes running water, bathhouses and washhouses.

Primitive campers are those who "rough it," providing their own water for drinking and health purposes, the forester explained.

Ward Ashby, superintendent of Deep Creek Lake Park, reported that a number of tent sites were put into use over the past warm weekend.

Due to the increased use of the outdoor camping areas, another group of 50 sites is being prepared at Swallow Falls State Park.

Thayer said the work has also been started on two additional washhouses and access roads. This new section is adjacent to the present tenting area at Swallow Falls, the forester added.

The State Department of Forests and Parks is getting applications from young men who wish to serve as life guards at Deep Creek, Herrington Hanor and New Germany in preparation for the outdoor season starting Memorial Day.

Thayer pointed out that while the outdoor camping facilities will be ready by May 30, the cabins at New Germany and Herrington Hanor will not be opened until the second week in June.

In West Virginia state parks are under construction. One of the most noteworthy is the remodeling of all the standard cabins in the parks. This includes new cabinets and fixtures at New Germany and Herrington Hanor. Approximately 15 new campgrounds with about 280 tent sites are under construction.

Boosting The Budget For Space Study

It's hardly news that the administration is going to ask an increase in the space program budget. The amount of the increase—$600 million—is news, but it's hardly surprising. President Kennedy indicated the administration's intent right after Commander Alan B. Shepard made his historic flight down the Atlantic Missile Range. Of the $600 million, five-sixths would go to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for space exploration and development of satellites for peaceful purposes. The remainder would go to the Defense Department. The total represents an increase of approximately 25 per cent in the over-all space budget. By devoting this money to the space program, Washington is acknowledging that it is indeed in a race with Soviet Russia. Therefore, it is important that the money be spent wisely. What Congress will do when it gets hold of this proposal is hard to tell.

To win victories in the space race, the U.S. must take advantage of new departures and new ideas, abandoning approaches and systems that are not proving out and give no prospect of proving out within a reasonable period. The question of rocket fuels might be an example. U.S. space boosters to date have been liquid-fueled. But if solid fuels might push the space program ahead faster, they should at least be tried. Successes with the Polaris and Minuteman missiles, both solid-fueled, argue that way.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
Mass Movements

I am often told not to dignify somebody or something by giving him or it public attention. The idea behind this advice is that nothing exists unless it is noted in the press. I learned different in October 1917. Seven men and two women who were generally of neutral personalities came to Petrograd to take over Russia. I knew most of them. I knew where they were hiding. Of an evening one might have gone to a Cafe Chantant, as they called a night club there, to listen to an actress ridicule these men and women. Trotsky, in particular, was ridiculed; Madam Kollantai, a wealthy woman turned Red, was laughed at for her beauty and good clothes. That was 44 years ago. I recall attending the Constituent Assembly which was the hope of the Russian people. Lenin sat on the platform for a short time. He was a mild, calm, dull-looking man who looked perhaps like a printer or maybe a grocer. He waved to a girl in the balcony. Then the Bolsheviks got bored. They left the hall. The seats they vacated were so few that numerically they counted for nothing. This was a small band of nobodies who fancied themselves rulers. Then, one of them, Dybenko, came into the hall of the Tauride Palace and gently told the assembled delegates that they had better get out. One man against the nation. So they all got out. They went their various ways.

During the intervening 44 years, this small band became masters of a large part of the world. Lenin has been deified and most of his associates have been murdered. Trotsky was assassinated in Mexico and Angelica Balabanoff is in Palo Alto writing. Perhaps she alone remains of those who attended the Zimmerwald Conference which started this particular historic ball rolling.

At that time, who thought that the Bolsheviks would ever amount to anything? Everyday, I went to the Smolny Institute, where they made their headquarters, and never did one see a more motley crew. But soon the hair was combed; the beards were trimmed; the clothes were more orderly. These were the new rulers. Since then I have never ignored a mass movement, no matter how small or how absurd. Most mass movements appear absurd, even ridiculous, when they start. The beginnings of Hitler must have been very funny to the onlooker; this Charlie Chaplin figure, screaming and yelling and attitudinizing in beer-halls. Hitler was not so funny when he disturbed the entire world. We laughed at him but many of our sons died on account of him. Perhaps they died because no one would take Hitler seriously at the right time, which was when he started. When I report small mass movements, some serious, some screwball, in the United States, I am often told not to "dignify" such absurdities by giving them publicity. The surprising fact is they somehow make their own publicity, just as a man trying to jump off a tenth story ledge into a crowded street will attract attention.

The little mass movements at this moment in this country are very different from those in the 1930's. Then folks, young and old, were angry because of the shock of the Depression. They had not expected that the American economic system could ever collapse. They had lived through the mad 20s and expected its inflationary character to be permanent. They drank spiked beer and bought liquor from bootleggers. The spree came to an end and an entire nation lost hope.

In the 1960s the mass movements are beginning to take on different characteristics. Young men and women are still angry but one might guess that one reason for their anger is that Roosevelt sociology, Keynesian economics and the United Nations have not brought them peace and contentment. Laugh at these young people because of their nihilistic symbolism but their protest is spreading. So older folks are demanding the abolition of the income tax and other groups pick on other segments of our troubled lives. To ignore these movements because their causes are badly stated and because men get into them as they get into the liberalism of the 20s and 30s is not understanding the period in which we live. When one organization can build a membership of 100,000, it cannot be ignored.

Down The Rope To Reality

Small Spark Can Light Gigantic Fire In China

HONG KONG

Among all the experiments made by governments of men, the experiment now being conducted by the Chinese Communist government is certainly the most ruthless and perhaps also the most interesting that has been attempted in modern times. To be sure, it is not a novel experiment. As already pointed out in this series of reports, Mao Tse-Tung is clearly following Josef Stalin's book in the most literal fashion. Beginning with the first five-year plan, Stalin made the Russian peasantry pay for the forced industrialization of Russia. Mao is now trying to do precisely the same thing in China.

For this purpose, however, Stalin had to organize the countryside in a quasi-military manner. In order to free resources for his investment program, he also had to force down the standard of life of the Russian masses by one-half. And in the end, he had to condemn no less than 18,000,000 of people to death. Five million died in a single year in the fearful Ukraine famine, and 13,000,000 more succumbed to hunger, or expired under the lash of the police, or were quite simply shot before the second Soviet five-year plan ended in 1939.

In these respects, too, Mao is imitating Stalin. The Chinese Communists, like the Soviet agricultural collectives, were started in order to take the countryside in an iron grip. The drop in the standard of life of the Chinese masses after the communes were started was at least as grave as the drop of the Russian masses' living standard after the collectives were set up.

But right here we encounter the factor which makes it necessary to ask whether China may not explode as a result of this ruthless experiment. For the Russian masses were living not too badly when Stalin launched his program of forced industrialization; whereas the Chinese masses were only eking out the barest subsistence when their government decided to double its exactions. Cold calculation suggests, therefore, that if Stalin's forced industrialization cost the lives of 18,000,000 Russians, Mao's forced industrialization may quite possibly reduce the population of his much poorer, far more crowded country by as much as 150,000,000. This need to be so much more ruthless than Stalin, and more ruthless, too, over a longer period of time, clearly makes Mao's experiment more risky than Stalin's experiment. When any government has embarked upon a course that appears to require tens of millions of human sacrifices per annum, one must surely consider the possibility of failure. And in this reporter's opinion, which is still admittedly a minority opinion, the creeping famine in China is already beginning to cause very massive annual population losses.

A government edict has been published threatening punishment of any party cadre in whose commune the death rate rises much above normal. A leading Peking planner has also promised recently that in ten years the individual ration will be raised to no less than 1,500 calories per day — or less than Western nutritionists regard as absolutely needful for any working man or woman. This, after a full decade of further toil and hunger! after two bad crop years, grain is being imported to maintain the rations of the army and the show-case cities. But there is no discernible sign that the government intends to mitigate its harsh policy.

Here in Hong Kong, there are those who say that the agony of the Chinese masses will come to an end if there is a good crop this year. But in the first place, it is very doubtful whether a really good crop is possible, even if nature is kind, when more than 20 per cent of the farmers in the fields are showing the first symptoms of beri beri. And in the second place, unless the policy is changed, the government's exactions to pay for forced indus-

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

NOT FORGOTTEN — For most people the events of the 1960 political campaign are fading away in the face of the pressing current events. However, for the participants, some incidents die hard and are subject to being recalled at the slightest provocation.

Take Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother. Robert flew to Georgia recently, where he made a strong speech outlining his brother's civil rights program.

In the heart of segregation land, Kennedy expounded on the administration's determination to bring equal education, voting and employment opportunities to the Negro. His audience listened respectfully and gave him a 30-second standing ovation at the end of his speech.

As an introduction to that speech, Robert recalled that during the campaign, when GOP Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew into the South he had with him as an advisor the then Attorney General William P. Rogers, who was deeply involved in enforcing racial integration. Rogers would stay on the plane and out of public view during these southern stops.

Alluding to that, Kennedy remarked, "I understand that the last attorney general to come down South, Mr. Rogers, hid in a plane in South Carolina. That didn't work so well, so I'm trying a different approach."

No one in Kennedy's audience missed the point.

Radioisotope Scanning Detects Liver Ailments

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Radioisotope scanning is becoming a recognized method of diagnosing tumors and abscesses of the liver and other solid organs. These rays producing chemicals settle in normal cells but not in diseased parts. A special device scans the area to find out whether the isotopes are evenly distributed. If certain areas have not picked up the radioactive material, they are considered abnormal.

Members of the diagnostic radioisotope laboratory of the Johns Hopkins hospital have used radioisotope scanning equipment to detect a variety of liver disorders, including abscesses, malignancies, hepatitis, and obstructions to the flow of bile. The method also has helped eliminate the liver as the cause of distress in patients with pain in the upper right part of the abdomen; in others, operations have been avoided.

In studying the liver, the test is done as follows: Radioisotopes that settle in liver cells are injected into a vein. The scanning procedure is started 5 to 30 minutes later, when the material has reached the liver. These particles give off rays that are spotted with a special gadget similar to a geiger counter.

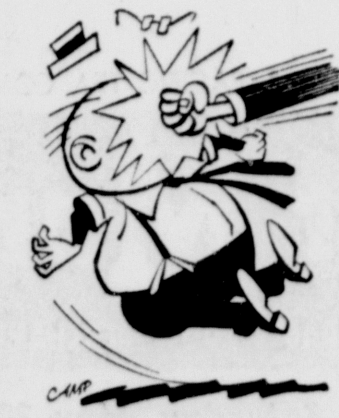

An electric motor drives this detector back and forth over the liver area. The amount of primary radiation immediately beneath the probe is measured electronically, amplified, and recorded automatically on a photo recording device.

The record ends up as a film, consisting of hundreds of little squares, each representing the amount of radiation coming from a small part of the liver. The square is black where the radioactivity concentration is greatest and white where there is little or none of this material.

On the screen, a normal liver is all black because the radioisotopes are distributed evenly throughout the cells. In addition, the size and shape of the liver are outlined. Since the radioactive substances do not settle in abscesses, cancer, or other diseased cells, these white spots are easily noted on the photo-scan because they stand out against the black background.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Charley Weaver admitted to "his people" that he had been in class 4-A for two full terms: Roosevelt's and Truman's. He also explained a slight discoloration around his left eye. He and a friend had played a little game on the telephone for some weeks, calling up acquaintances at 3 o'clock in the morning to cackle, "Guess who?" One acquaintance finally guessed who.

Two of the leading figures in a nudist camp became involved in an argument. One lost his temper completely and began shouting at the top of his lungs. The other, more temperate, laid a restraining hand on his shoulder and counseled, "Hector! Hector! Keep your shirt off!"

Adlai Appears Winner In Argument Over Kennedy-Khrushchev Meeting

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — A backstage argument has been intriguing the diplomatic corps as to whether Adlai Stevenson or John F. Kennedy was right about meeting with Nikita Khrushchev. Now it looks as if the argument is being settled in favor of Stevenson.

The question is one of the most important influencing recent American diplomacy.

It began even before Kennedy was inaugurated, when the Russians made it quite clear they were delighted at his election, looked forward to a new era of improved relations. Prior to the election, Khrushchev had compared Nixon to a goat tending a cabbage patch, and had castigated Eisenhower over the U-2 incident.

On the day of Kennedy's inauguration Khrushchev sent him a glowing telegram. It almost bubbled over with friendship.

Even before January 20 the Russians had offered to send a special envoy with cabinet rank to Kennedy's inauguration as a symbol of its importance. This was politely refused. Kennedy was acting on the advice of old guard state department advisers. In addition, he seemed trying to counterbalance his statement of May 1960 that he would have expressed regret to Khrushchev for sending the U-2 over Russia on the eve of the summit conference.

White House Denies

It was on Jan. 27, just one week after the inauguration, that Kennedy clashed publicly with Democratic Elder Statesman Adlai Stevenson, who had become Kennedy's Ambassador to the United Nations, and who told the press in New York that he thought Kennedy should meet with Khrushchev.

Promptly from the White House came a blunt repudiation.

There is reason to believe that this made Khrushchev hit the Kremlin ceiling. Not only had he released the RB-47 fliers five days after Kennedy became president, as a gesture of friendship, but he had indicated that he would come to the United States on March 6 to attend the United Nations Assembly where he wanted to meet the new president.

Kennedy's denial of Stevenson's statement, therefore, was interpreted in the Kremlin as a direct slap at Khrushchev.

Earlier the American Embassy in Moscow had reported that Khrushchev had six months in which to demonstrate to the Red Chinese that his policy of coexistence with the West would work.

At the Communist conference in Moscow in November, 1960, the Chinese had battled vehemently against Khrushchev's so-called policy of appeasing the West. In a four-hour speech, the Chinese delegate had excoriated Khrushchev as Governor Faubus of Arkansas might excoriate Roy Wilkins of the NAACP. The Russo-Chinese compromise, as reported by American diplomats, was a six-month grace during which Khrushchev would have to prove to the Red Chinese that his policy would work.

So when Kennedy politely sent word that he wanted to get his feet on the ground at home before he talked about foreign policy abroad, Khrushchev decided to haze the young new president.

This is the way skilled diplomats who watch events in the Kremlin have reconstructed events. They understand Kennedy's position. They sympathize with his desire to get his feet under the desk at home. They know he never actually turned down Khrushchev.

Mr. K vs. Mr. K

However, events since then bear out the theory that Mr. K in Moscow set out to haze Mr. K in Washington.

For not since Khrushchev dis-invited Eisenhower to Russia last May has an American president faced so much Communist trouble and so much Moscow abuse.

Just when Ambassador Thompson delivered a polite message to Khrushchev in Siberia on March 9, that Kennedy preferred to postpone any early meeting, the Kremlin sent a brutal note regarding the Congo, undercutting the United Nations and everything the United States stood for there.

Simultaneously the Soviet delegation to the Geneva Nuclear Testing Conference stiffened its position. It took a tougher stand than against Eisenhower.

There followed stepped-up Communist activity in Laos, an area which the Kremlin knew the United States did not want to defend with troops. And while Kennedy demanded complete neutrality, the Communist-supported pathet Lao stepped up their activity until they had most of Laos in their hands—leaving the young new president out on his neutrality limb.

Part of this may have been accident, but not all. It had the earmarks of a tough Khrushchev hazing of Mr. K in Washington.

Then came the abortive invasion of Cuba, at which point Russian-American relations reached a new low. Pravda gave forth with a bitter, government-inspired editorial attacking Kennedy by name, while the Kremlin sent Kennedy two brutal notes threatening to intervene.

The Cuban fiasco materially handicapped Kennedy's bargaining position. He could not afford to be an aggressor twice in succession—first in Cuba, then in Laos; or in Geneva, by resuming nuclear testing.

In fact, the President found himself in almost the same position as Eisenhower—a position of fighting rear-guard actions to catch up with events which had overtaken him. He even found himself in a position which caused Richard Nixon gleefully to advise that Kennedy sit down and meet with Khrushchev—even as he and Ike had done.

And, although Adlai Stevenson is not the kind who says "I told you so," a good many diplomats now figure that he was right.

Cherchez Les Femmes

By John Crosby

Television started as a woman's medium. The first personality resembling stardom on it was Kyle MacDonnell. Is anyone here old enough to remember Kyle MacDonnell? She sang for fifteen minutes three times a week and she was mighty cute. Then there was Roberta Quinlan who sang on behalf of carpets from the Looms of Mohawk.

Television's first really big national star was Faye Emerson who practically owned the industry in its Pleistocene age (1949-1960). Television's biggest star to date and perhaps the biggest one it will ever have was Lucille Ball. There have been a number of other women who have done extremely well at television. Loretta Young, who has been called the Iron Butterfly, has slithered through that door, spinning like a top, for eight years, introducing those tearful soap operas. Arlene Francis presided over a really ambitious and interesting and useful daytime woman's show.

Dinah Shore has romped and sung and done comedy sketches and danced and committed every manner of horseplay on her own show for roughly ever. Another veteran of years and years is Ann Sothern. The Annie-come-latelys include Barbara Stanwyck and June Allyson.

And where are they all now? Cancelled, every last one. Some of them are still on the air but none has been renewed for next year.

Women's shows, the network people say, simply have no audience. If you look through night time network programs, you'll find hardly a one featuring a woman. You find those lovely names like "Rifleman" and "Bat Masterson" (which is why so many people have given up television altogether). The Nielsen ratings, that meaningless numbers game the sponsors pay so much attention to, doesn't contain in its first twenty a single show featuring women.

Whether it's an action show like "The Untouchables" or a Western like "Gunsmoke" or a situation like Andy Griffith or Danny Thomas or a comedian (Jack Benny, Red Skelton, Bob Hope), they all feature men. Even the sole remaining quiz show, "The Price Is Right," is presided over by a man. Of course, you can find a woman here and there on television. The family comedies have mothers in them but whereas the mother or wife was the focus of the show, as in "I Love Lucy" or "I Married Joan," it's the man or a child who is at stage center now ("Dennis the Menace"). Some of the family comedies, such as "Bachelor Father" or the Fred MacMurray show, have done away with mother altogether.

How come women have gone so thoroughly into eclipse on television? One theory is that women at home are the chief dial twisters and that women don't like to look at other women. My own theory is that television is just following the classic pattern of show business where women are traditionally box office poison. There weren't any women of great importance in radio either. Mary Margaret McBride will belt me for that but the big stars were still the Jack Benny, Bob Hope, Fred Allen-type comedians. The newscasters who loomed large in radio from Edward R. Murrow to Walter Winchell were solidly male and so were the panelists on "Information Please."

And when you come right down to it—I'm laying myself wide open to a punch in the mouth here—did women ever amount to much in the movies? The big box office stars of my childhood were Charles Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, Harold Lloyd, Buster Keaton, Rudolph Valentino, Lon Chaney. Any women in there? Well, all right, there was a girl named Mary Pickford. But was Mary Pickford really a woman? The only thing I ever saw her in was "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and she was anything but a woman in that.

Shirley Temple? She was a kid. Marie Dressler? An old lady. Judy Garland and Deanna Durbin —adolescents. Of course, I hurriedly gloss over Elizabeth Taylor. She's sure a woman and she's red hot box office. But she and Ingrid Bergman are the exceptions. Garbo was luminescent but she needed a strong male star like John Gilbert to get the customers to the box office.

The suggestion has even been made that the Emmys drop the category Best Actress in a Series, except for Donna Reed, there aren't any.

You can steam a whole fish in the oven. Place the fish on a rack in a roasting pan; add hot water but don't have it touch the fish. Cover the pan and steam until the fish flakes easily, using moderate oven heat.

Add a few drops of food coloring to pear juice and boil one minute. Then place pears in liquid for ten minutes. You have pink, green or yellow pears depending on the color of food coloring you have used.

TB Unit Adds New Directors

Several new members were added to the board of directors of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association at the unit's annual meeting Tuesday. In the first row left to right are Mrs. Helen Vogel, RFD 1, Frostburg; Charles M. See, president of the association; G. Frederick Pritchett, program director for the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, and Mrs. Katherine Hartig. In the back row in the same order are Thomas B. Powell, Frostburg; John J. Rowan, LaVale; J. Edwin Keech, Cumberland, and Philip Hartig, Westernport. Officers for the coming year were nominated.

LaVale Man In Accident

Bruce R. Zembower, 23, of 42 Parkside Boulevard, LaVale, escaped injury yesterday when the station wagon he was operating skidded across Pennsylvania Route 96 near Hyndman and crashed into several guard rails.

State Police at Bedford said Zembower apparently lost control of the vehicle as he was traveling north, two miles south of Hyndman.

Police said one of the troopers stationed at Bedford was coming toward Zembower when the accident occurred, and was forced off the highway when the station wagon went out of control.

Authorities estimated damage at $300 to the vehicle, which is owned by William R. Welsh, also of LaVale. About $75 worth of damage also was caused to flowers which were in the station wagon.

Zembower was charged with reckless driving in the accident, which happened about 11:30 a. m.

Permit Issued For Church Near Lonaconing

A building permit for a $60,000 First Assembly of God Church, which will be constructed along State Route 36 near Lonaconing, was issued yesterday by James G. Stevenson, clerk to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The pastor, Rev. Charles F. Sell, 20 Front Street, Lonaconing, obtained the permit for the church, which will be built opposite Valley High School. The L-shaped brick building will have 4,800 square feet.

Groundbreaking for the new church was conducted on Sunday, May 7.

Also issued was a permit for a $5,000 frame dwelling to be constructed in Triple Lakes Addition, Election District 7. Cumberland Swift Homes Division obtained the permit for the 26 by 60 foot house.

Blue Angels Corps To Visit Area Towns

The American Legion Blue Angels Drum and Bugle Corps of Westernport will make a tour through the Georges Creek region this evening to promote interest in Blue Angel Week, to be held the third week in June.

The corps will leave Westernport at 6:30 p. m. and will give concerts and marching demonstrations in Barton, Lonaconing, Midland and Frostburg.

Another tour through other parts of the county is being considered for a later date.

Social Agencies

Parking space at all the locations is becoming an increasing problem. Rooms are small, and in case of trial magistrates court, there are frequently more people in a trial than can be seated. There is no space available in the court for magistrates to have conferences with people.

Agency workers at the meeting expressed the view that a careful survey will show that by combining rents now paid by health and social agencies with any available state and federal aid, it will be possible for the county to establish a central agency building in Cumberland which would resolve most of this difficulty.

The group held its last meeting of the season until September, at which time a committee will report its findings for a formal recommendation.

To Attend Meeting

William F. Miller, foreman for the city sewage treatment plant, will attend the annual meeting of the Maryland-Delaware Water and Sewage Association in Ocean City next Monday through Wednesday.

Quench Grass Fire

South End Fire Company was called to Grand and Stewart avenues yesterday at 3:41 p. m. after a grass fire broke out on the hillside. The blaze was quenched in less than 40 minutes.

B'er Chayim Will Confirm Class

B'er Chayim Congregation will confirm a class of seven Sunday at 2 p.m.

The special service, conducted by Rabbi Max Selinger, takes place on the day of Shavuot, an ancient Jewish pilgrim festival which commemorates the giving of the Ten Commandments.

The confirmands will read their Hebrew text from the Tora scroll. They are Deborah Sue Beerman, George Rubin Beneman II, Larry Jay Brock, Linda Sue Lazarus, Jeffrey Allan Milberg, Fredericka Rosenbaum, and Carolyn Rae Zucker.

When you are broiling ground lamb patties, you'll find they'll take longer than those made of ground beef.

Hey Mom --- I've got a job!

I have my own newspaper business. This is a real opportunity to learn while I earn.

I have a route near home where I will be able to earn plenty, and it only takes a couple hours each day.

GEE MOM . . . you should hear all the things this job will do for me . . . besides giving me money to spend and save. I have a chance to win swell prizes, too.

I'll be a regular businessman an' learn to sell, an' keep records, an' handle money, an' how to save, an' everything.

Gee It's Swell!!!

I'm going to keep my newspaper route a long time.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — The way conditions are in the world today I wouldn't care about going any farther east than where I am — New York. But Robert Ryan and his partner Sidney Harmon and his partner Sidney Harmon are harder souls and they'll film "Sahib" in Pakistan in late summer. In fact, Bob and Sidney's independent Carolwood productions is tied in financially on this deal with Jalal Productions, which represents Pakistan financial interests.

Hugo Fregonese will direct from Gilbert Wright's original story about an opportunist American whose regeneration comes about through his son's relationship with a Pakistan boy and his elephant.

We can use some stories of how understanding can be developed between people of diverse cultures—more and more of them.

Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the President, handed Jerry Wald a bit of a left-handed compliment when he telephoned from Boston to tell Jerry he had run "Return to Peyton Place" for a few friends with considerable "trepidation" because he didn't know how his guests would take it. "But they loved it," reports Papa Joe, who used to be in the movie producing business himself.

The Kennedys seem to be a family of movie viewers, even to keeping an eye on boxoffice returns. In a recent interview Peter Lawford states that President Kennedy quoted to him almost exactly what "Ocean's 11" had taken in financially in this country and in Europe.

No wonder Elizabeth Taylor needs all her strength back before she takes on "Cleopatra." She has several strenuous dance sequences in the spectacle and Hermes Pan, who staged Fred Astaire's TV spectacles, has been offered the choreography job. Liz wants to do these dances instead of "faking" just the close-ups.

Right now Hermes is dance director on "Flower Drum Song" at U-I and has "Jumbo" coming up at MGM. But he would sidetrack any future job for the privilege of coaching Liz for her "Cleopatra" routines.

Seldom has any group of women worked harder than the committee chosen to select the international award for the best diamond design of the year. There were 500 sketches submitted. Mrs. William Paley looked like a fashion plate, and it's understandable why she has been selected so often as one of the world's best dressed women.

Mrs. Ambrose Diehl, an old friend from San Francisco, Miss Margaret Thilly Accessories, editor of Town and Country Magazine, and I were the first to arrive. We went over the designs again and again. Then came Mrs. Homer Hargreaves—our old friend Coleen Moore of Chicago, and I was so glad to see her. Other Judges were Wilhelma Cushman, fashion editor of Ladies Home Journal, Mrs. Clark W. Thompson of Galveston and Washington.

We'll know who won in a day or two. There were five groups, and we chose 11 out of these groups in different price ranges.

Don't write the Brett Halsey-Luciana Paluzzi marriage off yet. Even though they are estranged, Brett is flying to Rome to be on hand when Luciana has their baby around June 1. If he has his way, his beautiful Italian wife will return with him to the U.S.A., and they'll give their marriage a fresh start.

Things must look hopeful for Brett (he's Admiral Halsey's nephew who is clicking in 20th movies) because when Luciana left here with her mother for their native land, Brett had said, "I hope they let me know whether the baby is a boy or a girl."

Baltimore Woman's Slayer Gets Life Term

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—John N. Hyde, 21, was convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment Tuesday for the fatal stabbing of a Baltimore County housewife.

Judge John R. Raine Jr. heard the evidence without a jury in Baltimore County Circuit Court. Hyde, an ex-serviceman, was accused of slaying Mrs. Dolores Allan, a 25-year-old neighbor, with a souvenir German trench knife.

Reminder Issued

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Treasury Department has issued a reminder that effective June 1 it will be violation of federal law for Americans to hold gold in foreign countries.

The department pointed out Tuesday that the prohibition was ordered by former President Eisenhower last Jan. 16. He banned holding of gold abroad and securities representing gold and directed that all such holdings be disposed of by May 31.

Imports Increased

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Tariff Commission advised President Kennedy Wednesday to increase the duty on imports of cylinder, crown and sheet glass on grounds these imports are causing "serious injury to the domestic industry."

The six-man commission was unanimous in finding that the imports are hurting U.S. manufacturers. They split 4-2 over how much the duties should be raised on the various glass items involved in the "escape clause" investigation the commission made, on its own initiative.

Circle To Meet

Keyser Voters To Elect Mayor On June 6

Primary Contest Does Not Develop

KEYSER—There will be no primary election in Keyser this year since only two candidates have filed for the office of mayor and two for the position on the City Council which expires this year. The general election is set for June 6.

Incumbent Mayor Richard E. Romig will be opposed by former Mayor John C. Freeland and incumbent Councilman Raymond E. Murray will meet opposition from William D. Kayor, Murray, has served as water commissioner under the present administration. The terms of Finance Commissioner Paul Peters and Street Commissioner Lester Oates do not expire until next year.

The council Tuesday accepted an opinion handed down by Attorney General C. Donald Robertson relative to Kayor's eligibility as a candidate. He filed prior to last Saturday's deadline but a dispute arose on the grounds that he had not been a resident of the city for two years according to the city charter. His property was included in the annexation last summer.

The Attorney General, in his ruling, pointed out that the candidate's name can be placed on the ballot for election but it is up to the City Council and the Attorney General to decide later whether or not he can serve.

In other action the council heard Jake Shear, chairman of the Recreation Board, present an account of what he needs for the successful functioning of the city's program this summer. Approval was granted and various items will be ordered.

The city fathers also passed a proposal allowing parking on both sides of South Main Street from Lincoln to Newton.

Girl's Auxiliary Coronation Is Set Tonight

FROSTBURG — The annual Girl's Auxiliary coronation service of the WMS of First Baptist Church will be held today at the church at 7:30 p.m.

The highest honor will go to Linda Via who will be crowned "Queen with Sceptre." Three of the auxiliary members have fulfilled the requirements and will be crowned "Queen": Barbara Wiebrecht, Linda Snelson and Suzanne Lancaster. Mrs. Clyde Runyon, Cumberland, association Girl's Auxiliary director, will present the charge to the Queens. Barbara Miller and Vicki Via will be presented G.A. octogons for having fulfilled the requirements for Maidens, the first of the G.A. forward steps.

Miss Betty Ann Hanna will be soloist and Miss Carol Bean, organist. The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Edna Richardson, president of the WMS.

Others taking part in the program are: Trumpeters — Michael Jones, Gerald Ward and Paul Moulden; Flower Girls — Shawnee Eisle, Kim and Karen Blank, and Karen Geary; Crown bearers—George Lancaster, Kevin Geary; Edward Simpson and Samuel Rankin.

Mrs. Peggy Fuller serves as G.A. director assisted by Mrs. Marilla Thompson as G.A. counselor and Carol Thompson as assistant G.A. leader. Gifts will be presented to the Queens by Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Thompson. Rev. Marvin C. Simpson, pastor, will give the invocation, benediction and congratulations.

This program is a part of G.A. Focus Week being observed throughout the Southern Baptist Convention.

Following the ceremony refreshments will be served by the Gladys Dotson and Violet Popp circles, fostering groups for G.A.S.

Council Elects Secty.-Treas. At Moorefield

Community Group Plans Restoration

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Mrs. Ed Baker was named secretary-treasurer of the Moorefield Community Council at the monthly meeting held at Hardy County Public Library. The election of a president will be deferred until the June meeting.

L. L. McConnell, president of the group, named Mrs. Virginia Muntzing, Mrs. R. E. Fisher and Mrs. A. C. McNeill as the cemetery committee to determine the status of Olivet Cemetery Association.

Mrs. Julian B. Chipley brought the plat of the UDC lot which is located on the road from the South Fork to Helmick Rocks, which shows a front of 100 feet by 30 feet in depth. The stone marker showing the site of Stonewall Jackson's parents cabin has been damaged by pilfering and souvenir hunters. Volunteer labor by members of the Civil Air Patrol has been offered to restore the monument.

The committee to present material for a brochure and a travel map is continuing its research. Mrs. Jane Maxwell was named chairman of the committee to select a princess to represent Hardy County at the Tri-County Fair next fall.

Rising Sun Lodge Initiates Class

Area Weather Variable For First Half May

Below Freezing On Two Days

FROSTBURG — When the mercury soared to a high reading of 84 degrees here Monday, it was the highest temperature recorded this year. A high reading of 86 degrees was reached on April 23 of last year.

C. Walter Hayes, Upper Potomac River Commission weather observer for Frostburg, said cold and wet weather for May was experienced in Frostburg the past two weeks.

Friday morning, May 5, a low reading of 30 degrees was noted, a white frost covered the ground and water froze. This was the lowest temperature this month. The other low temperature occurred on the morning of the fourth, when the mercury read 31 degrees with frost and ice formed.

Killing frosts have been experienced in the past here as late as May 29.

Precipitation has been measured on 10 days of the 15 this month for a water content of 2.36 inches, which is .34 of an inch above the May average.

An all-time record rainfall of 8.16 inches was set here, in May of last year.

Considerable cloudiness prevailed the past two weeks, only one day had clear skies.

Rainfall amounting to .53 of an inch was measured here May 16, following thunderstorms of the previous night and early morning.

Mayor Romig Appears On TV Program

KEYSER — Mayor Richard E. Romig was among several area residents appearing on the television program, "Our Beautiful Potomac," Saturday night, originating from WRC-TV, Washington. The program, sponsored in cooperation with the Army Corps of Engineers, dealt mainly with the waters of the North Branch of the Potomac and proposals for Savage River Dam, Stoney River Dam, and the North Branch Reservoir in connection with industrial, recreational, and urban development for this area.

Descriptive views of the Luke plant of West Virginia Pulp & Paper, the Celanese Corporation, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and the Potomac Edison Company highlighted the half-hour show. Julian Patrick, retired chemical engineer at the Luke mill and an official at Savage River Dam, was among the various industrial representatives who spoke.

Commentators were Stuart Finley of the TV station and Col. John U. Allen, district engineer of the Washington District.

Keyser Guard Will Train At Camp Pickett

Artillery Unit To Leave June 3

KEYSER—Members of Keyser's Battery C, 1st Howitzer Battalion, 201st Artillery of the National Guard, will leave June 3 for Camp Pickett, Va., where they will join other units from Fairmont, Elkins, Kingwood, and Martinsburg for two weeks of combat training.

Battalion Commander, Lt. Col. Leo E. Falkenstein, said the program includes a four-day combat problem during which northern West Virginia artillerymen will fire almost every type of missile required of today's modern field artillery. He said the battalion would spend most of the training period in actual firing of its 155 mm howitzers.

According to Lt. Philip L. Leatherman, Battery C commander, a highlight of the encampment will be the annual visit of Gov. W. W. Barron, the state Guard's Commander-in-Chief, on June 10. At that time he will inspect State Guardsmen during the Governor's Day Review. About 63 men from here will be in training.

Maryland AAUW President To Speak Saturday

Area Branch Plans Anniversary

FROSTBURG — A highlight of the annual anniversary luncheon of the Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women to be held at the Cumberland Country Club next Saturday will be a talk by Mrs. Everett F. Davis, the retiring president of the Maryland State Division of AAUW.

MRS. EVERETT F. DAVIS

Mrs. Davis who earned her A.B., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from Washington University, St. Louis, was formerly Botanist and Acting Director of the U.S. Golf Association Greens Section and is currently lecturer in biology at George Mason College, Alexandria, Va. She has held many different offices in AAUW, including the presidency of three different branches. She is also active in the United Church Women and the Middle Atlantic Conference of Congregational Women's Fellowship.

The business meeting will include the installation of officers at which Mrs. Davis will preside. Mrs. Joseph H. Kruson will be installed as president; Mrs. Daniel Shupe, second vice president; Mrs. Lowell M. Sowers Jr., recording secretary; and Mrs. James McNeil Jr., corresponding secretary, of the Frostburg Branch.

Guest will include Miss Sally Layman and Mrs. Helen Herbold, shemer, students at Frostburg State Teachers College, to whom the Branch recently gave honor awards for leadership and scholarship.

Midland Clean-Up Drive Is Under Way

MIDLAND—This week is being observed as Clean-Up Week in Midland, and trucks will haul trash, rubbish and refuse to the town dump all day today.

Town officials request that residents place trash and other items they wish hauled away on the curbs, and that all materials be consolidated for ease and speed in handling.

On Monday, the town's volunteer firemen hosed down all the community's paved streets and alleys and residents have been busy cleaning up yards, cellars, attics and premises generally.

The mayor and council are making a drive to keep Midland one of the cleanest and most attractive communities in the entire region and most residents are cooperating, they report.

Keyser Women Of Moose To Host Chapters

Academy Session Scheduled Sunday

KEYSER—Keyser Chapter No. 191, Women of the Moose, will be host Sunday to the Academy of Friendship meeting for other chapters of the immediate area, with Mrs. Nedra Walsh as chairman.

Invitations have been extended to Cumberland, Piedmont, Romney, and Moorefield groups. Representatives from Martinsburg, who usually attend, have declined because of a similar event being held the same day in Charles Town.

One of the principal features of the program, which begins at 2 p. m., will be the traditional Ring Ceremony honoring three of the members of the Keyser Chapter who recently received their Academy of Friendship degrees in Glen Burnie, Md. They are: Mrs. Clydette Canfield, Mrs. Virginia Hanlin, and Mrs. Luther Kephart. Initiation of new candidates has also been planned.

Academy members will fill the chairs in place of regular members for this particular session.

Miss Louise Wertman, chairman of the reception committee, will be assisted by Mrs. William Shobe; Mrs. Mary Lea Crogan will be in charge of the program; Mrs. William Miller, the scramble table; and Mrs. Marie Shank, Mrs. Marea Snider, and Mrs. Walsh, registration.

Following entertainment refreshments will be served to the Academy members and their guests.

Mt. Savage Junior-Senior Prom To Be Held Friday

MT. SAVAGE—The annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held at Mt. Savage School Friday at 8 p. m. The theme of the dance will be "Wonderland By Night." "The Townsman" will play for the ball. They will be seated before the auditorium doors with a background consisting of the glittered words "Wonderland By Night." Below this a large trumpet will appear with the same phrase being emitted from the horn in German.

As the guests enter the decorated lobby they will walk through a large flowery arch with a lily pond featured on the side. On the ceiling will be a combination of twirled pastel colored crepe paper and small abstract stars. Small quarter moons will add to the "night" effect. The library doors will be concealed by a unique waterfall scene surrounded by trees, rocks, flowers and grass giving a forest effect and vines of red roses will disguise office doors. The adorned gymnasium entrance will resemble a park scene. A large silver star with a half moon in the background will shine upon an elaborate seat for two. The showcase will possess a complete miniature German town after dark.

Colorful lights in the windows of the buildings present a pastoral scene. Table decorations consist of small trumpets surrounded by pastel angel hair.

The Junior class members responsible for these ornaments and designs comprise the decoration committee. They are Carol Meade, general chairman; Marlon Kasekamp, cochairman; Eugene Ondorff, Pat Fair, Tim Geary, Pat Baker, Sharon Twigg, Pat Burkett, Frank Hartman, Ruth Smith and Eleanor Porter.

The main attraction at intermission will be a five-piece combo featuring Marlon Kasekamp, trumpet; Judy Boyce, piano; Jim Lashley, drums and Ralph Pollock, guitar.

PHILIP J. FAINI

Two PSC Music Units Offer Concert Tonight

KEYSER—Potomac State's Concert and Stage bands, under the direction of Philip J. Faini of the music department, will present its spring band concert tonight at 8 o'clock in the college gymnasium. The concert is open to the student body and the public.

Faini, who is in his second year as director of instrumental music at the college, also directed the stage band Tuesday night in a joint concert with the Potomac State Singers.

Among selections to be played by the concert band are "Thanks Be to Thee," by G. F. Handel; "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor," by J. S. Bach; "Die Meistersinger," by Richard Wagner; "Die Nacht," by Richard Strauss; "Danzig," by Willis Schaefer; and "The Little Rhapsody in Blue," by George Gershwin.

The 16-piece stage band, which accompanied the Potomac State Singers on the annual spring tour to various high schools last month, will present various selections of popular dance band tunes, with the featured number being "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue."

Among other numbers are "When the Saints Go Marching In," featuring Dave Berry and Sam Stamoulis in drum solos; "All or Nothing at All," "Baby, Won't You Please Come Home," and "Stardust," featuring Joel Shannon with a trumpet solo.

Detroit Defeats Baltimore To Increase League Lead

Bengals Belt Birds, 9-1, To Sweep Series

Kaline, Colavito Lead 15-Hit Attack; Regan Is Winner

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers slammed out 15 safe hits behind the six-hit hurling of Phil Regan to sweep their three-game series with the Baltimore Orioles with a 9-1 victory Wednesday night.

Regan, now 4-0, finished his third game in as many starts as the Tigers increased their league lead over the New York Yankees to five games.

For the Orioles, it was their fifth straight loss and dropped them under the .500 mark with a 15-16 record.

Al Kaline, who missed two games with a pulled right thigh muscle, returned to the lineup to pace the Tiger attack with a single, double and triple, driving in three runs. Rocky Colavito also had two singles and a double to drive in two runs.

Bellino Cops Two Awards

Gets Thompson, Academy Trophies

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Joe Bellino, the squat Navy halfback who made a habit of touchdowns on the gridiron, Wednesday became the first Middle Atlantic in 42 years to win the Academy's two top athletic awards.

Rear Adm. John F. Davidson, superintendent, announced that Bellino, an All-America and winner of the Heisman and Maxwell trophies, will receive the Thompson Trophy and the Naval Academy during June Week ceremonies June 2-7.

Bellino, who is also captain of Navy's baseball team, is the first athlete to receive both awards since Bill Ingram, a football and crew standout, took the cup and sword in 1919.

The sword is presented to the graduating midshipman who is considered by the athletic council to have "personally excelled in athletics during his years of varsity competition."

The Thompson Trophy annually goes to the person who has "done the most during the current year for the promotion of athletics at the Naval Academy."

Maroons Defeat Orioles, 5-3

The LaVale Maroons opened their Pen Mar Little League season by defeating rival LaVale Orioles, 5-3, yesterday.

Home runs by David Pitman and Jim Evans paced the Maroons attack as Corky Hickie led the route on a five-hit and whiffed 10. Billy Lowstutter and Paul Maline hit circuit blows for the Orioles. The score:

Reds Win 2-1 Behind Purkey

Phillies Hurler Loses Three-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds made only three hits off John Buzhardt Wednesday night but they combined two of them with a base on balls and a sacrifice fly in the third inning for two runs and a 2-1 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Right-hander Bob Purkey posted his fourth victory in five decisions while allowing the last place Phillies five safeties, one of them being Tony Gonzalez's third home run of the campaign. The ball cleared the right field wall. It was the 12th triumph in the last 14 games for the rampaging Reds.

The Reds helped Purkey with three double plays in crucial spots to send the Phillies down to their 12th loss in their last 14 games.

Rotary Club, Kiwanis Score In Hot Stove

Lions Are Handed Initial Defeat

Rotary received two-hit pitching from Greg Skidmore and Rick Merrill yesterday to hand the Lions their first defeat in the Hot Stove Baseball League in the first game of a doubleheader at Penn Avenue field. The score was 4-1.

The Lions were held hitless until the seventh inning when the losers got singles by Wagner and Morgan but failed to score.

The Lions suffered their first loss against one win while Manager Lonnie Jackson's Rotary nined opened its season with the triumph.

Joe Dorsey had two hits and Merrill banged a triple for Rotary which scored all its runs in the sixth inning on three singles, a walk, a sacrifice and Merrill's two-run triple.

In the nightcap, the league's newest entry, Salvation Army, received its baptism of fire as they bowed to Kiwanis Club, 12-0.

Two five-run innings enabled Manager Bert Lawler's Kiwanis tressers to coast to victory behind the two-hit pitching of right-hander Tom Stichter. Stichter struck out 13 in posting his first win.

Duke Simpson had two hits; Dave Bruce banged a double and home run for Kiwanis which was benefited by 11 bases on balls. Mike Wisenmiller and Larry Richardson had Salvation Army's two bingles, both singles.

In today's twin bill at Penn Avenue field, the Bedford Road Optimists will play the B.P.O. Elks at 5:30 p.m., and the Jaycees will meet the Cumberland Optimists at 7 o'clock. The scores:

Marlins Plan To Shift To Charleston

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—The San Juan Marlins of the International League announced Wednesday night that they are transferring to Charleston, W.Va., for the remainder of the season "because we don't wish to be responsible for the insolvency of the league or other clubs."

General Manager Joe Ryan said the Marlins will leave San Juan Thursday and open a three-game series with the Jersey City Jerseys in Charleston on Friday. In Jersey City, General Manager Paul Miller confirmed that his team had been instructed by International League President Tom Richardson to go to Charleston Friday instead of to San Juan.

"External pressures brought by member clubs and other outside influences make it impossible to confirm our operation in San Juan," said Ryan before Friday night's game with the Richmond Virginians. "Understandably, other clubs faced with an operating loss here fail to share our enthusiasm for remaining in San Juan."

PGA Takes National Golf Championship From L.A.

Conflicts Said Detrimental To Successful Meet

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association announced Wednesday it would take its 1962 national championship out of Los Angeles. At the same time, the Los Angeles Open was reinstated to the 1962 tour schedule.

The announcement made no mention of a demand by California's Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk that the PGA must end a racial membership restriction if it wants to continue its tournaments in California.

But the statement by PGA President Lou Strong said: "Under present conditions in California, the PGA did not feel that it would be possible to conduct a successful tournament of the magnitude of the PGA championship in that state."

Joining Strong in the announcement was John F. Kimbrell, president of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, which was to have sponsored the 1962

Bucs Edge Cards, 4-3

Burgess Bats In Three Pirate Runs

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Smoky Burgess drove in three runs Wednesday night to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and the sweep of an abbreviated two-game series.

Eloy Face, who relieved starter Vinegar Bend Mizell in the eighth inning with no outs, was in a jam in the ninth when pinch-hitter Red Schoendienst and Manuel Javier led off with back-to-back singles. But Joe Cunningham popped up to short, pinchhitter Mickey McDermott flied out and Ken Boyer hit into a game-ending force play.

Mizell got the victory, his third against one defeat, while Ernie Broglio went down in his fourth defeat against three victories.

The stubby Burgess singled home Dick Groat for the first of two Pirate runs in the third inning and in the fifth he doubled to the left field pocket for two more.

Beall Clinches Division Title; Valley Upends LaSalle

Harper Wins Golf Tourney At Frostburg

C. W. Harper was the winner of the "best poker hand" golf tournament, a nine-hole match held yesterday at the Maplehurst Country Club. He had five 6s.

John Durst was second with four 5s while Harry Diehl had a full house, 5s and 3s.

On the par 3 holes, Jim Donahue was closest to the pin on No. 7 and Harry Diehl was closest on No. 4.

Maplehurst men's golf association will hold a pro-am breakfast tournament on Sunday at 9 a. m. Players must sign by Saturday noon for the tourney.

Class B Jr. High Track Meet Is Set Today In Frostburg

Thinclads of Mt. Savage, Bruce, Cresaptown and Oldtown will battle it out for points in the Allegany County Class B Junior High School track and field meet today at 3:45 p. m., at Beall High School Stadium.

There will be 14 events on the program—4 in the 95 pound class, 4 in the 115 pound class and six in the junior unlimited class.

The meet is being held in two classes for the first time. Fort Hill won the Class A meet on Monday, with Allegany second and Beall third.

Penn Central Stakes Slated

Local Beagle Club Hounds Are Eligible

The Penn Central all-age winners stakes will be held Saturday and Sunday at Conemaugh Valley Beagle Club at New Florence, Pa.

The 15-inch class will be run on Saturday and the 13-inch events are slated on Sunday. Both drawings will be held at 8 o'clock each morning.

Judges for the program will be Ivan Rhoads, Cambria, Pa., and Ed Wagner, Barnesboro, Pa.

Hounds eligible to participate from the Allegany Beagle Club are John Armstrong's Frost Place Captain and Frost Place Chopper; Umer Wigfield's Wigfield's Stubby; C. E. Martney's Pearl's Trick; and R. E. Flynn's Chiefly Diplomat. All are in the 13-inch class.

In the 15-inch class local hounds are Allan Beeman's Beeman's Cindy; C. E. Martney's Pearl's Spot; and Frank Urbas' Frank's Gringo and Buck's Molly.

Diehl Hurls Mounties To Eighth Win

Eisel Hits Homer; Black Knights Hand Explorers 5th Loss

Jim Diehl hurled Beall High's Mounties to the Western Division title in the Allegany County High School League yesterday, turning back Mt. Savage High's Indians, 8-2, at Frostburg for their eighth consecutive victory.

The unbeaten Mounties swept the series with Mt. Savage in a game moved ahead one day because of a track meet slated today.

Beall iced the verdict with three runs in the second inning when Mt. Savage starter Ralph Wilson and reliever Wayne Howell could not find the plate, issuing four bases on balls. Jim Wilson singled home two runs and the third came in on an error.

Shortstop Allen Eisel cracked out two hits for the Mounties, including a solo home run in the sixth inning.

Diehl allowed six hits in going the route for Beall, walking three and whiffing six. The win was his third pitching victory of the campaign.

John Lowery had a pair of hits for Mt. Savage which lost its fourth game in seven starts. Lowery had a double and single in a losing effort.

Valley High's Black Knights, finding themselves after four straight losses, chalked up their third straight win yesterday by beating LaSalle High's Explorers, 9-1, at Barton.

Jim Matthews, sophomore right-hander making his first start of the year, held LaSalle to two hits and was given the support of a 14-hit attack.

Valley scored three times in the first and added four in the third to ice the decision early. Marvin Miller capped the four-run rally with a two-run triple.

Gary Broadwater had a pair of hits as he connected in his seventh straight game. Phil Shockey and Miller had three hits apiece for Valley. The lineups:

Moose, VFW Score Wins

Phonemen Blanked; Elks Drop First

Manager Cecil Grimes' VFW tossers scored their third straight victory in the Rocking Chair Softball League yesterday by turning back the C&P Telephone Company, 11-0, behind Floyd "Pete" Elliott's seven-hit twirling at Post field.

Ted Durbin and Mel Dean hit back-to-back home runs to open the first inning against the Phonemen and Durbin added a triple. Joining in the Vets' 12-hit assault were Ronnie Cagle with a three-bagger and Jimmy Eckard with two singles and a double.

The Loyal Order of Moose picked up their first RC win after two losses and handed the Elks their initial defeat, 11-6, at Stitches field.

Dick Klavuhn was backed by a 17-hit Moose attack which included three hits by Bill Thompson, a triple and single by Klavuhn, a triple by Lloyd Lease and a single and two-bagger by Herman Lewis.

George Geatz had a three-bagger, double and single for the Elks who had won their first two starts. The scores:

Planning Group Will Consider Interim Zoning

First Draft Ready For Discussion

The Allegany County Planning and Zoning Commission will consider the first draft of a proposed county interim zoning ordinance at its meeting tonight at the Court House.

This proposal was prepared by Ladislav Segoe and Associates, the county planning consultants. Julian Tarrant of Richmond, Va., represents the firm here.

If approved by the County Planning and Zoning Commission, the ordinance would be recommended for adoption by the Board of County Commissioners. It would be up to the county commissioners actually to establish interim zoning.

Hearings Necessary

Richard Winer, chairman of the planning and zoning group, stressed yesterday that his commission would conduct public hearings before any action is taken recommending interim zoning. Similarly, the county commissioners also would conduct public hearings before establishing such an ordinance.

As proposed, this interim zoning would continue in the unincorporated areas of the county for a period not to exceed 30 months. It would not be effective within the corporate limits of the seven incorporated communities of the county or in the LaVale Zoning District, which has had its own zoning regulations since the summer of 1957.

The proposed interim zoning ordinance points out that a master plan for county development is now being prepared. In the meantime, it is considered wise to have interim zoning to encourage carefully planned and balanced development within the county.

Commercial and industrial uses would be prohibited in residential districts. However, uses already in effect at the time of the adopting of the ordinance would continue as non-conforming uses.

Off-Road Loading

There are requirements in the ordinance for off-road loading spaces and parking areas.

A zoning certificate would be required along with a building permit. This would be issued by the county zoning inspector, who would also serve as the county planning director.

Decisions by the county zoning inspector could be appealed to a County Board of Appeals, which also would be created by the county commissioners. A decision of the Board of Appeals could be appealed to Allegany County Circuit Court.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this interim zoning ordinance would be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a $100 fine. Each day that the illegal use or action would continue would constitute a separate offense.

School Board Grants Bruce Teacher Leave

Forrest Boggs Jr., driver education and biology teacher at Bruce High School in Westernport, has been granted a five-month leave of absence by the Allegany County Board of Education to take an advanced infantry officers' course at Fort Benning, Ga.

Mr. Boggs' leave extends from April 24 until September 15 and includes about three months of summer vacation. Formal approval of the leave was granted Tuesday at the school board's monthly meeting.

Use of facilities at four schools by outside groups was approved by the school board.

The Eckhart Baptist Church received permission to use the Eckhart School auditorium Thursday night for the showing of a film entitled "Operation Abolition." It depicts the riots in San Francisco last year at the time the House Un-American Activities Committee was holding hearings in that California city.

Use of Westernport school facilities during the Blue Angels Week June 18 also was sanctioned. The Bruce High School auditorium will be used June 18 for the coronation of the queen. On June 24 rooms at the Westernport Elementary School will be needed for dressing for the parade and drum corps competition.

Permission was granted the Frostburg Junior American Legion team for use of the Beall High School baseball diamond for games and practice this summer.

The board also approved the action of Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster in allowing the use of the Valley High School auditorium for a Minstrel program on May 11. The request for this usage came after the school board's April meeting. Proceeds from this performance will be spent for a community project.

Clinic Scheduled For South End Center

An immunization clinic will be held at the South Cumberland Health Center Tuesday from 3 until 6 p.m. for residents of the South Cumberland area.

Individuals who will receive shots are requested to bring any previous record of immunization they may have.

Man Cycling To Make Rail Protest

Will Pass Through City This Morning

A 35-year-old unemployed truck driver from Kansas City, Mo., who is en route to Washington, D. C., by bicycle to protest piggy-back freight hauling by railroads, stopped over in Frostburg last night.

Russell Perrine, who left his home in Kansas City on Easter Sunday, will pass through Cumberland this morning and hopes to arrive in the nation's capital on Sunday.

Mr. Perrine said last night he is making the trip to Washington to see President Kennedy and protest the piggy-backing of automobiles on railroad lines. He said he plans several demonstrations when he reaches Washington to dramatize his opposition to the way railroads are hauling automobiles.

He said he has been collecting signatures from businessmen along the route who claim their businesses have been hurt by railroad competition with the trucks. Perrine said he has 25,000 names on the petition and will present the petition to the President if he gets an opportunity.

Mr. Perrine charged "Railroads are guilty of selective rate cutting on transportation of automobiles and other freight and they are recapturing their losses on their captive commodities."

The truck driver's trip from Missouri is being financed by truck drivers in the Kansas City area.

He said his crusade has been well received along the way, and that in many of the larger cities parades and demonstrations were held.

DES Staffers Are Here For Job Survey

Two members of the staff of the Maryland Department of Employment Security will be here this week to complete another phase of the job study the department is making for the City of Cumberland.

They are Carl Steiner and Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, assistants to George J. Widman, the DES job analyst who is in charge of the survey.

Mr. Steiner and Miss Kennedy are discussing job descriptions filed some weeks ago by city workers with the various supervisors of city departments.

These conferences are expected to continue through Friday.

The DES job study will include descriptions of jobs performed by city workers and the classification, by title, of the job.

The jobs will be classified by the DES on the basis of questionnaires filled out some time ago by workers, interviews held with the employees, and the current discussions with supervisors.

The point of the study is to describe city jobs "as they exist."

The DES job classifications will cover some 275 city workers.

It is considered likely that the task of setting rates for the various jobs will be made through the Municipal Advisory Service of the University of Maryland, which established the job and classification system which was adopted last July 1.

The Department of Employment Security hopes to have the job survey completed before the end of the fiscal year.

Legal Issues Termed Key To Extra Session

Blocking Petitions Are Circulating

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes said late Wednesday he still has not reached a decision on calling a special session of the Maryland Legislature to pass emergency bills regulating the savings and loan industry and creating a Baltimore Municipal Court.

"We're still studying the legal ramifications," Tawes said after a 2½ hour conference with his advisers. "After they are resolved, everything else will fall into place."

The governor is considering the special session to block the effect of petitions now being circulated in Baltimore to force two major bills enacted by the 1961 Legislature onto the general election ballot of 1962 and thus delay their effect.

Finan Cites Problems

"There are a lot of problems to be considered," Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan commented during a break in the conference, which began in the governor's office around 3 p. m. He indicated most of the questions being discussed were of a legal nature.

Also attending the session was George H. Hocker, personal friend and adviser to the governor.

It was the second day of sessions between Tawes and his aides on the matter. He conferred for more than two hours Tuesday in his Baltimore office with Finan and Richard W. Case, the Baltimore attorney who headed a study commission which drafted legislation to bring the $1.5 billion savings and loan industry under State regulation.

Petitions are being circulated in Baltimore and sections of Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties bordering the city. Only 10,000 names are necessary to block a statewide act passed by the legislature, and only half of these have to be filed by May 31.

Weigh Problems

One of the problems reportedly being weighed by Tawes and his associates was whether to await formal filing of the petitions, regarded as almost certain, before calling a special session of the legislature.

Two other statewide bills, to tighten restrictions on jobless benefits and create a new 8th congressional district, are also the subject of petitions being circulated, but Tawes and legislative leaders are not as concerned about possible delay to these. They regard the savings and loan and municipal court bills as being more of an emergency problem.

Meanwhile, the Legislative Council showed its concern with the problem of petitions by adding to its summer agenda a proposal that the petition process be thoroughly investigated with a view to rewriting the law.

The council, between-sessions study arm of the General Assembly, organized for its summer work Wednesday at a 10-minute session in Baltimore.

Line Up Topics

Del. Marvin Mandel, D-Balto 5th, proposed the study of referendum, and it was assigned to the council's Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. Frederick C. Malkus, D-Dorchester.

Malkus said he expected it to be the "most important subject" coming before the council all summer.

Del. A. Gordon Boone, D-Balto County, chairman of the council's Budget and Finance Committee, said the matter of referendum was becoming "ridiculous."

The main purpose of the meeting was to line up study topics, most of them referred to the agency by the General Assembly, and appoint committees.

Legislative leaders said they were ready to confer with the governor at any time about a special session.

Labor Seeks Referendum On SB 19

1,000 Names Are On Petitions Here

Petitions calling for a referendum on a bill to revise Maryland's unemployment compensation laws are being circulated by the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Stanley Zorick, secretary-treasurer, said last night that about 1,000 names are already on petitions which were put into circulation here Tuesday.

He said similar petitions calling for a referendum on Senate Bill 19 are being circulated in Baltimore and Hagerstown.

The drive is "going very well," he reported, explaining that 5,000 names will be needed by May 29 to prevent the bill from becoming law on June 1, and that 10,000 will be needed for a referendum.

The area AFL-CIO council includes 21 labor unions with a membership of some 9,000.

Labor leaders here are confident that enough signers will be secured to bring the issue to a referendum.

Youth Commission To Hear Miss Leiter

Miss Sarah L. Leiter, state supervisor of pupil services, will address the next meeting of the Allegany County Youth Commission at 8 p. m. next Monday in the City Hall auditorium.

An invitation to the meeting was extended Tuesday to the county commissioners. Miss Leiter is a native of Hagerstown and a graduate of Hood College.

Social Agencies Cite Need For County Building

Note Congestion And Confusion

The need for the construction of a county office building to house the various agencies and county services was discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Social Agency Luncheon Group in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

A committee during the summer months will compile information and data, with the view of recommending to the Allegany County Commissioners the construction of adequate quarters.

The agency representative expressed the view that Welfare Board, Trial Magistrates Court, Juvenile Court, the state's attorney's offices, Maryland Veterans Commission, Vocational Rehabilitation Service, Veterans Administration, Associated Charities, Heart Association, Cancer Society, Tuberculosis Society, Soil Conservation Service and other public agencies all should be housed in quarters to fit their respective needs.

The Friday night concert will begin with six selections by Miss MacDonald's orchestra. They will play America the Beautiful by Ward, Skating Capers by Muller, Woodshed Conga by Muller, Valse In C Minor by Chopin with Marna Pyle at the piano, Pizzicato Time by Muller and Melody of Love by Englemann.

Alma Mater and Under the Double Eagle, a march by Wagner, will be the first two band selections Friday night. Then will follow four favorite waltzes, Southern Roses, H.M.S. Pinafore, L'Etudiant and Little Annie Rooney.

After the selections by the two ensembles, the band will conclude with Oh Promise Me and Caissons Go Rolling Along.

All of the Cumberland elementary schools are represented in the band and orchestra. They also include pupils from LaVale, Crestapton, Flintstone, Mt. Savage and the Thomas G. Pullen School at Frostburg.

Harry Malcolm To Appear Last Time With Area Band

Harry Malcolm, who is retiring at the end of the school year as an instrumental music teacher in Allegany County schools, will make one of his last public appearances in the Allegany High School auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday.

The occasion will be the annual concert by the Cumberland elementary band, which Mr. Malcolm directs, and the Cumberland area elementary string orchestra directed by Miss Christina MacDonald.

Some 80 elementary school musicians play in the band and about 55 in the orchestra.

Two smaller groups of talented musicians will present special selections tomorrow night. A five-member woodwind ensemble will play the Rainbow theme from Fantasia-Improvisation by Chopin.

The ensemble includes Carol Means, Vickie Berg, Sheryl Horcher, Jeanne Eisenberger and Dick Eyer.

A 13-member brass ensemble will play Elgar's Land of Hope and Glory. Included are James Carson, Brent Boor, Joe Hemmis, Douglas Wagner, Billy Syckes, Chris Butler, Diehl Snyder, Gary Watson, Steve Wilson, Gail Davis, Gene Paul, Timmy Kelley and Allen Lewis.

A petit jury of Mineral County Circuit Court in Keyser deliberated over three hours Tuesday before finding Cecil R. Wilt guilty of drunken driving.

Wilt who had been found guilty of the charge by a justice of the peace, appealed his case to Circuit Court.

Judge David Cuppitt, who heard the case, deferred sentencing the man, who was represented by Howard Shores and Charles Smith.

County Chosen For Oral Polio Vaccine Test

Will Be Fifth In Nation Checked

Allegany County has been selected as a test area for oral polio vaccine as a result of the efforts of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Society.

This vaccine was developed by Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati.

This county of about 85,000 population will be the fifth area in the entire nation to participate in the test. Programs are continuing in Rochester, N.Y.; Middletown, Conn.; Cincinnati, Ohio, and Harrisburg, Pa.

The society issued the following statement concerning the oral polio vaccine test:

"Through the efforts of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Society, Allegany County has been selected as a test area for oral polio vaccine.

"The society contacted Dr. Sabin who developed the vaccine and Wyeth Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., a pharmaceutical firm, producers of the vaccine, and were assured of a sufficient supply for all of Allegany County. Wyeth will furnish the vaccine free of charge.

"The oral vaccine should be taken by everyone from the age of three months to 45 years and no one will be turned down because of age.

"An advantage of the program is that once the series of oral vaccine is taken, no boosters are needed according to present knowledge.

"The vaccine to be used in the test won't be on sale to physicians or their patients for another year or two.

"The oral vaccine is safe. In addition to the government tests, upwards of 400,000 persons have taken the vaccine in the United States and between 60 and 70 million Russians have swallowed it without any trouble.

175 To Attend River Basin Spring Meeting

About 175 conservation-minded persons from Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia will converge on Moorefield, W. Va., today for the spring meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin.

"Cooperative Planning For Water Development in the South Branch" will be the theme for the meeting to be held in the Moorefield Fireman's Hall.

A highlight of the meeting will be a discussion on the Potomac Basin study started under Congressional authorization in 1956 and scheduled for completion next year. The speakers on this topic will be Alvin C. Watson, river basin representative of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and Col. J. A. Allen, Washington district engineer for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Theodore Fearnow of the U.S. Forest Service is another scheduled speaker.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers of Keyser, now in his seventh successive term as Congressman from West Virginia's Second Congressional District, will be the featured speaker at today's luncheon.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, a panel discussion will be conducted with John Altes of Romney, W. Va., as moderator. "State Considerations in Watershed Planning" will be the topic.

Panelists will include Walter Gumbel, on small watersheds; Bern Wright, on water quality; Kermit McKeever, on recreation; Ernest J. Nesius, on agriculture; H. P. Berthy, on forestry, and Carl Sullivan, on game and fish.

Tomorrow the party will leave Moorefield in special chartered buses at 9:30 a.m. to proceed up the South Fork of the South Branch to a completed small dam, No. 13, where lunch will be served. The return trip will be made via Franklin, W. Va., to the site of the proposed Royal Glen Dam to be constructed by the Corps of Engineers. Buses will return to Moorefield at 4 p.m. Friday.
